Introduction

New Round-Up 6 English Grammar Practice combines fun with serious, systematic grammar practice. It is ideal for learners in the upper-intermediate stages of English language learning.

Students see grammar points clearly presented in colourful boxes and tables. They practise grammar through lively, full-colour illustrations and oral and writing activities.

New Round-Up is especially designed for different students studying English in different ways.

It can be used:

- in class with a coursebook. Students do both oral work in pairs and in groups and written work in New Round-Up.
- after class. The 'write-in' activities are ideal for homework. Students can practise what they have learnt in the classroom.
- on holidays for revision. New Round-Up has clear instructions and simple grammar boxes, so students can study at home without a teacher.

The New Round-Up Teacher's Guide includes a full answer key, quizzes, tests plus answer keys and audio scripts of progress check listening tasks.

Listen and repeat. Then act out.

Present Simple is used:

- for permanent situations or states. He works in a hospital.
- for general truths and changing or laws of nature. Water boils at 100°C.
- for repeated/habitual actions (especially with adverbs of frequency: often, usually, always, etc.). He always does his homework. (Here 'always' means every day.)
- for reviews/sports commentaries/ narrations. José Carreras sings wonderfully in this recording.
- for timetables/ programmes (future meaning). The race starts at 3:00 pm.
- in exclamatory sentences. Here comes the bride!

Present Continuous Present Perfect is used for:

- temporary situations. recently completed She is working in Paris this week.
- developing situations. Johnny is getting taller • actions that started in and taller.
- frequently repeated actions with always, constantly. continually, etc. expressing annoyance or criticism. He's always asking stupid questions. (Here 'always' means constantly.)
- actions happening at or around the moment of speaking. The baby is sleeping at the moment.
- fixed arrangements in the near future. I'm seeing Rachel tonight.

is used for:

- actions and whose results are visible in the present. He has cut the grass. (We can see the grass is now cut.)
- the past and continue up to the present with stative verbs such as be, have, like, know, etc. In this case we often use for or since. Mrs Jones has been a secretary for ten years.
- experiences She has tried windsurfing.
- · actions which happened within a specific time period which is not over at the time of speaking. We use expressions such as today, this morning/evening/ week/month, etc. He has read three novels this week. (The time period - this week - is not over yet. He may read another.)

Present Perfect Continuous is used:

- for actions that started in the past and continue up to the present. He has been washing his bike for an hour. (He started an hour ago and he's still washing it.)
- for past actions of certain duration having visible results or effects in the present. He has been fighting. That's why he's got a black eye.
- to express anger, irritation, annoyance Someone has been using my laptop. (annoyance)
- Present Perfect Continuous is normally used with for, since or how long to put emphasis on duration. She has been waiting since 4 o'clock.

Time expressions us	ed with:
Present Simple	every day/week/month/year, usually, sometimes, always, rarely, never, often in the morning/evening/afternoon, at night, on Mondays, etc.

How to treat Open Cloze Texts

- Read the whole passage at least once to become familiar with the general meaning.
- Try to find out what kind of word is missing (noun, adjective, adverb, modal, article, preposition, etc.). Look at the words which are close to each blank or in the same sentence but consider other words as well. They were hungry, ... they decided to order a takeaway. (The second clause is a result of the first clause, therefore we need 'so'.)
- When you have completed the cloze text, read the passage again carefully to see if it makes sense and is grammatically correct.
- 5 Read the text below and think of the word which best fits each gap.

It is common knowledge amongst British taxpayers that keeping Britain's streets free of litter requires a 0) ...lat.. of money. Every year, a staggering 660 million pounds 1) spent on clearing litter from the streets – all this 2) the fact that dropping litter is against the law in the UK. Nowadays, you can be fined up 3) £1,000 for littering. Not is too late. If you see rubbish in the street, pick it up and take it to a rubbish bin 9) order to set a good example.

- The Present Infinitive refers to the present or future. I hope to meet her tonight. The Present Continuous Infinitive expresses an action happening now. He must be sleeping now. The Perfect Infinitive is used to show that the action of the infinitive happened before the action of the verb. He claims to have worked here before. (First he worked here, then he claimed he had worked here.) The Perfect Continuous Infinitive is used to emphasise the duration of the action of the infinitive, which happened before the action of the main verb. He looks tired. He seems to have been studying for the test all night. The Present Cont., the Perfect and the Perfect Cont. Infinitives are used with the verbs: appear, claim, happen, pretend, seem etc and with modal verbs. (see p. 40)
- The Present Gerund (-ing form) refers to the present or future. Ann enjoys walking in the woods. The Perfect Gerund (-ing form) shows that the action of the -ing form has happened before the action of the main verb. We can use the Present Gerund instead of the Perfect Gerund without a difference in meaning. He denied having killed James. OR He denied killing James.

1 Write the correct form of the infinitive.

1 I went to have gone 6 he is writing
2 she has been playing 7 it is fixed
3 he had worked 8 he will type
4 it was read 9 he was cleaning
5 they have been informed 10 she will be sleeping

The to infinitive is used:

- to express purpose. He went to university to become a lawyer. (in order to become)
- after certain verbs such as agree, appear, decide, expect, hope, plan, promise, refuse, etc. He refused to pay the bill.
- after certain adjectives which describe feelings/emotions (happy, glad, sorry, etc.). She was happy to win the prize.
- after would like / would love / would prefer, etc. to express a specific preference.
 I would like to see the manager.
- after certain nouns.

 What a surprise to see him there!
- after too / enough.
 He's too young to have his own car.
 He's clever enough to do the crossword.
 He's got enough money to live on.
- with it + be + adjective (+ of + noun / pronoun).
 It was generous of him to offer £1,000.
- with so + adjective + as. Would you be so kind as to help me move the sofa?
- with only to express an unsatisfactory result.
 She came in only to find Bob had left.
- after be + the first/second, etc. / next / last / best, etc. He was the last to come to work.
- in the expression for + noun / pronoun + to infinitive.
 For him to be so rude was unforgivable.
- in the expressions to tell you the truth, to begin with, to be honest, etc.

To be honest, I don't like him.

Note: If two infinitives are joined by and or or, the to of the second infinitive can be omitted. I want to call Mr Jones and fax or post him a letter.

The -ing form is used:

- as a noun. Walking is good exercise.
- after certain verbs (admit, anticipate, appreciate, avoid, consider, continue, delay, deny, discuss, enjoy, escape, excuse, fancy, finish, forgive, go (for activities), imagine, involve, keep (= continue), mention, mind, miss, object to, postpone, practise, prevent, quit, recall, recollect, report, resent, resist, risk, save, stand, suggest, tolerate, understand, etc.). They discussed selling the company.
 "Let's go jogging!" "No, I'd rather go sailing."
- after dislike, enjoy, hate, like, love, prefer to express general preference. She likes painting. (in general)
 Note: like + to infinitive = it is considered a good idea
- after I'm busy, it's no use, it's (no) good, it's (not) worth, what's the use of, can't help, there's no point (in), can't stand, have difficulty (in), in addition to, as well as, have trouble, have a hard/difficult time.

I like to wash my hair every day.

- after spend / waste (time, money, etc.).

 He spends his free time digging (in) the garden.
- after prepositions. He left the shop without paying, so he was accused of stealing.
- after look forward to, be / get used to, be / get accustomed to, object to, admit (to), etc.
 I'm looking forward to hearing from you soon.
- after hear, listen, notice, see, watch to express an incomplete action, i.e. somebody saw or heard only a part of the action. I saw Tim doing his homework. (I saw part of the action in progress. I didn't wait until he had finished.)

BUT hear, listen, see, watch + infinitive without to express a complete action, i.e. something that somebody saw or heard from beginning to end. I saw Tim do his homework. It took him an hour. (I saw the whole action from beginning to end.)

The infinitive without to is used:

- after most modal verbs (can, must, will, etc.). You can leave now if you want.
- after had better / would rather. I'd rather not go out tonight. I'd better stay at home.
- after make / let / see / hear / feel + object. They made him pay for the damage. BUT in the passive be made / be heard / be seen + to infinitive. He was made to pay for the damage.
- know and help are followed by a to infinitive or an infinitive without to. I've never known him (to) be so mean. Could you help me (to) fix the car? BUT in the passive be known, be helped + to infinitive. She was known to have worked as a teacher.

How to treat Multiple Choice Cloze Texts

- Read the whole passage at least once to understand as much of the general meaning as possible.
- Look at the four choices given for each gap and try to reduce the choices by eliminating the obviously incorrect ones.

He the world record for weightlifting in 2004.

A did B broke C made D reached

The word record is not used with do or make. Also we do not say we reach a record – you reach a destination. Therefore B: broke is the correct answer.

• When you have finished, read the text again to see if it makes sense and is grammatically correct.

5 Read the text below and decide which answer best fits each gap.

Modal Verbs

1 8 Listen and repeat. Then act out.

- The modal verbs are: can, could, may, might, must, ought to, will, would, shall, and should. They do not take -s in the third person singular. He can ride fast. They come before the subject in questions and are followed by 'not' in negations. "Could I leave now?" "I'm afraid you can't leave." The modal verbs are followed by an infinitive without to except for 'ought to'. She could leave early but she really ought to stay till the end. Each modal verb normally has more than one use. Shall I help you with the dishes? (offer) Shall we go out tonight? (suggestion)
- Certain verbs or expressions have virtually the same meaning as some modals. These are:
 need (= must), had better (= should), have to/have got to (= must), be able to (= can), used to (= would), etc. / have got to hurry to catch the bus. (= I must hurry.)
- We use modal verbs to express: ability, advice, criticism, logical assumptions, necessity, offers, obligation/duty, permission, possibility, probability, prohibition, requests or suggestions.

Can - Could - Was able to (ability)

- Can expresses ability in the present and future. Could expresses ability in the past. The verb can is used only in the present or future and could in the past. We use be able to to form all the other tenses. He could climb up mountains before he had an accident. He can't climb mountains now but he had been able to do so before his accident.
- Was able to (= managed to) is used to express ability in the past for either single or repeated actions. He was able to reach Brighton before midnight. (single action) (NOT: eould)
- Could is used in statements to express general ability in the past for repeated actions. She could/was able to read when she was four. (could/was able to are both correct)
 However with feel, hear, see, smell, understand, etc. we normally use could for single actions. I could hear a noise coming from the dining room. (single action) (NOT: was able to)
- Could/Was able to are both used in negations and questions for either single or repeated actions. They weren't able to/couldn't win the race. (single action) Could you/Were you able to drive a car when you were fifteen? (repeated action general ability in the past).

Must - Have to - Have got to (Necessity - Obligation)

- Must (= it's necessary; I'm obliged to) is used when the speaker decides what is necessary to do. I must buy some new clothes. (I say so. I decide what to do.)
- Have to (= it's necessary) is used when the necessity comes from outside the speaker or when others decide for the speaker what is necessary to do.
 He has to be at work at 9.00. (The boss says so.)
- Have got to has the same meaning as 'have to' but it is used in spoken English. "Mum, I've got to go to the library."
- Must is stronger than 'have to' and indicates urgency and importance. I must meet Jane tonight. (It's very urgent that I meet her.) I have to meet Jane tonight. (I need to meet her.)
- Must is used only in the present or future. I must go to the meeting tomorrow. It borrows the rest of its tenses from 'have to'. She had to be present at the lecture last Monday.

7 Fill in: must or have to.

Bill: Hi, Alan. Why weren't you at the meeting this morning?

Alan: I had a doctor's appointment. So, what did I miss?

Bill: Well, Mr Newton, the new factory owner, said that we

Order of Adjectives

- Opinion adjectives (bad, pretty, etc.) go before fact adjectives (red, ancient, etc.). She's a pretty Italian girl.
- When there are two or more adjectives of the same category, the more general adjective goes before the more specific one. a nice friendly dog
- We say the first three months (NOT: the three first months), the last two hours, etc.
- When there are two or more fact adjectives in a sentence they normally go in the following order:

	Opinion				Fac	ct Adject	ives		Noun
		Size	Age	Shape	Colour	Origin	Material	Used for/Be about
It's a	nice	small	old	square	white	Italian	wooden	dinner	table.

- We usually do not use a long list of adjectives before a single noun. A noun is usually described by one, two or three adjectives at the most. a beautiful, white wedding dress
- The adjectives afraid, alike, alive, alone, ashamed, asleep, content, glad, III, etc. are never followed by nouns. The girl was left alone. (NOT: the alone girl)
- The adjectives chief, elder, eldest, former, indoor, inner, main, only, outdoor, outer, principal, upper can only be used before nouns. This is the main entrance. (NOT: This entrance is main.)
- We can use nouns as adjectives before other nouns. In this case the nouns have no plural form. I attend evening classes. I had a three-week holiday in Spain. (NOT: a three-weeks holiday)
- Nouns which express purpose, material or substance (shopping, cotton, gold, silver, etc.) can be used as adjectives before other nouns. He bought a new cotton shirt. I can't find my shopping bag. They're having a stone wall built. But we say: wooden table (NOT: wood table), woollen scarf (NOT: wood scarf). Note: golden hair (hair like gold) but gold watch (watch made of gold), silk dress (dress made of silk) but silky hair (hair which feels like silk), stone wall (wall made of stone) but stony look (cold look like stone), feather pillow (pillow stuffed with feathers) but feathery leaves (leaves which look like feathers).
- Present and past participles can be used as adjectives. Present participles describe what something is like. The match was exciting. Past participles describe how someone feels. We felt excited at the match.

- 3 Rewrite the sentences putting the adjectives into the correct order, then identify what kind of adjectives they are.
- 1 I love chocolate. (milk, Belgian, tasty)

Adjectives / Adverbs / Comparisons

Listen and repeat. Then act out.

- Adverbs usually describe verbs and past participles, adjectives, other adverbs or whole sentences. She walks slowly. (How does she walk? Slowly.) extremely good, incredibly quickly
- They say how (adverbs of manner carefully), where (adverbs of place here), when (adverbs of time yesterday), how much/to what extent (adverbs of degree extremely) or how often (adverbs of frequency usually) something happens. There are also sentence adverbs (probably, maybe, etc.) and relative adverbs (where, why, when).

Formation of Adverbs from Adjectives

- We usually form adverbs by adding -ly to the adjective. careful → carefully, serious → seriously
- 1 Adjectives ending in consonant + -y drop the -y and take -ily. cosy → cosily, happy → happily, angry → angrily
- 2 Adjectives ending in -ic add -ally. drastic → drastically, frantic → frantically
- 3 Adjectives ending in -le drop -le and add -ly. horrible → horribly, terrible → terribly
- 4 Adjectives ending in -e add -ly. scarce → scarcely, but: whole → wholly, true → truly
- 5 Adjectives ending in -ly (elderly, fatherly, friendly, lively, lonely, lovely, motherly, silly, ugly, etc) form their adverbs with in a(n) ... way/manner. in a silly manner, in a friendly way, etc.

Adjectives and Adverbs which have the same form

Some adverbs have the same form as adjectives. These include: best, better, big, cheap*, clean*, clear*, close*, cold, daily, dead, dear*, deep, direct, dirty, early, easy, extra, far, fast, fine*, free, further, hard, high, hourly, inside, kindly, last, late, long, loud*, low, monthly, past, quick*, quiet*, right, slow*, straight, sure, thin*, thick, tight, weekly, well, wide, wrong, yearly etc.

Ann was our last guest. She came in last. Those adverbs with an asterisk (*) can be found with -ly ending without a difference in meaning, but then they are more formal. Walk slow! (informal)

ALSO Walk slowly! (formal)

hard = intently; with effort

Adverbs with two forms and differences in meaning deep = a long way down deeply = greatly

direct = by the shortest route directly = immediately
easy = gently and slowly easily = without difficulty
free = without cost
freely = willingly
full = exactly; very

fully = completely

hardly = scarcely high = at / to a high level highly = very much last = after all others lastly = finally late = not early lately = recently near = close nearly = almost pretty = fairly prettily = in a pretty way short = suddenly; off target shortly = soon
sure = certainly surely = without doubt
wide = fully; off target widely = to a large extent wrong = incorrectly
wrongly = unjustly

- Most of the -ly forms can come before an adjective, a past participle or a verb. I'm highly aware of the situation. (NOT: high) He is fully trained. NOT: full) He easily found his way. (NOT: easy)
- Hardly means "almost not". I could hardly see in the dark. Hardly can be used with any / anyone / anything / anywhere / ever. There was hardly any food left. (= almost no food left) She hardly ever goes out of the house. (= She almost never goes out of the house.)
- Wrongly usually goes before verbs or past participles. You wrongly accused him. He was wrongly accused. (NOT: wrong)

Fill in: hard, hardly or hardly ever / anyone / anything.

Hi Kate!

Pam

It's a pity you couldn't come to Peter's birthday party. I gave it a lot of thought before I decided to go. You know me, I 1) hardly ever go to parties, so I had 2) to wear. Also, I was feeling tired because I had 3) slept at all the night before. But, I borrowed a dress from my sister and decided to go. I knew 4) there, but when I sat down, Peter's friends were really nice and I had a great time. What about you? Are you studying 5) see each other these days! We should meet up soon.

How to form opposites dis-, un-, in-, il- (before I), im- (before m or p), ir- (before r), mal- are negative prefixes which are used to make opposites of certain adjectives or adverbs. like – dislike

Write the opposites of the following words.

1	honest dishonest	6	logically	11	true
2	legally	7	successful	12	capable
3	possible	8	polite	13	agreeable
4	tolerant	9	responsibly	14	adjusted
5	regularly	10	satisfied	15	gratefully

10 Underline the correct item, then explain the difference in meaning.

- 1 Simon told everyone he would pass the exam easy / easily, so he was deep / deeply embarrassed when he came last / lastly in the class with 20%.
- 2 "I sure / surely am happy to meet you," said the reporter to the high / highly respected singer. "You're pretty / prettily famous around here, you know."
- 3 When he was almost full / fully recovered from his illness, the doctor told him to take it easy / easily and said that he would be able to return to work short / shortly.
- 4 As he was found near / nearly the scene of the robbery with a gun in his hand, it is hard / hardly surprising that he was arrested. It turned out that he had been wrong / wrongly accused.
- 5 Sure / Surely you can't have answered every question wrong / wrongly.
- 6 Rob was a very poor archer. His first arrow fell short / shortly of the target, his second flew about 10 metres wide / widely and the third flew high / highly into the air and landed behind him.
- 7 Although he arrived an hour late / lately, he started work immediately and tried hard / hardly to make up for lost time.
- 8 Lately / Late, she has been getting all her clothes freely / free from the fashion company, so I can't understand why she dresses so badly / bad.
- 9 It is wide / widely believed that there is a bus that goes direct / directly from here to the airport, but it's not true.
- 10 Last / Lastly, I would like to encourage you to free / freely donate money to the cause to find a cure for cancer.

Word Order of Adverbs

- Adverbs usually go after verbs but before adjectives, other adverbs and participles. They can be used in front, mid or end position in a sentence.
 - e.g. He speaks loudly.

He is amazingly handsome.

She runs very fast.

Mobile phones are extensively used nowadays.

Front Mid End
Obviously they will never see her again.

- Adverbs of manner go before the main verb, after the auxiliary verb or at the end of a sentence.
 - e.g. He easily answered the questions in the test.

We are eagerly waiting for his call.

She acted childishly.

When there is more than one adverb in the sentence, their usual order is manner - place - time.

subject verb (object) manner place time

He watched TV quietly in his room until 6:00.

When there is a verb of movement such as go, come or leave in the sentence, then the adverbs come in the following order: place - manner - time.

subject verb place manner time

Ann was rushed to hospital suddenly an hour ago.

- Adverbs of place and time usually go at the end of the sentence. Adverbs of time can go in the front position to emphasise the time.
 - e.g. Have you been here recently?

Every day he goes to the gym on foot.

- When there is more than one time adverb, we usually put the more specific ones before the more general ones (time day date year). He was born at 22:15 on Monday, March 17th, 1958.
- Adverbs of frequency (often, seldom, never, ever, usually, normally, scarcely, rarely, always, etc.) go after the auxiliary verb (be, have, do), but before the main verb. In short answers, however, we put them before the auxiliary. She has never travelled abroad. "She never comes to work on time. She is often late." "Yes, she always is."
- Adverbs of degree (absolutely, completely, just, totally, extremely, quite, seriously, very, etc.) go before the adjective or the adverb they describe. He's absolutely hopeless at Maths. When these adverbs describe verbs, they go before a main verb or after an auxiliary verb. We quite enjoyed the film. I've quite finished.
 Absolutely, completely and totally can go in the middle or end position. He completely forgot our appointment. or He forgot our appointment completely. A lot, much, a little, a bit, awfully, terribly can go in the middle position (before adjectives) or end position (when they describe verbs). I'm terribly sorry. My tooth hurts terribly.
- The adverbs already, no longer, hardly, nearly, almost, still go in the middle position. He nearly knocked the old lady down as he could hardly see her in the dark.
- Sentence adverbs (probably, certainly, possibly, perhaps, maybe, clearly, luckily, etc.) go in any position: front, middle or end. The front position is the most usual, though. Luckily, he didn't crash into the tree. He luckily didn't crash into the tree. He didn't crash into the tree, luckily. In negations certainly, possibly and probably usually go before the auxiliary or between two auxiliaries. He certainly didn't do it. He couldn't possibly have done it.
- We use adverbs after action verbs and adjectives after linking verbs: appear, be, become, get, feel, look, seem, smell, stay, taste. It tastes bad. (NOT: badly). She looked happy at the party. (Looked means 'appeared' here and is a linking verb.) She looked happily at the children. (Looked is an action verb here, not a linking verb, and 'happily' describes the action.)

11	Rewrite the sentences, putting the adverbs in the right position.
1	She has lived in England. (luxuriously/in a large house) She has lived luxuriously in a large house in England
2	Train services have been affected. (by the heavy snow/serlously)
3	The witness recounted everything that had happened. (during the robbery/accurately)
4	John read my essay and changed everything I had written. (incorrectly/virtually/carefully/very)
5	The wind is blowing. (hard/today/extremely/outside)
6	We will be travelling. (around Australia/this summer/definitely)
7	Ted is polite, but he was rude to Jenny. (surprisingly/normally/last night)
8	I'm certain you'll be happy with the service. (in this hotel/very/absolutely)
9	The cost of living has risen. (dramatically/recently)

10 The injured victims of the fire were taken to hospital. (quickly/seriously/fortunately)

12 Rewrite the text putting the adverbs in the correct place.

Did you know that listening to music while you exercise can increase the amount of time you're able to exercise? (significantly) In a recent study, researchers chose a selection of songs and asked a group of joggers to listen to them. (carefully) They told the joggers to run in time to the beat of the music and stop only when they felt too tired to continue. (exactly) The results were interesting. (extremely) The researchers found that the joggers ran 15% longer than usual when they listened to the music. (almost) The joggers reported that listening to the music made them feel energetic and improved their mood, too. (greatly) So, what are you waiting for? If you don't listen to music when you exercise, why not bring along your MP3 player the next time you go jogging or go to the gym? (normally) You'll be surprised with the results! (probably)

Regular Comparative and Superlative Forms

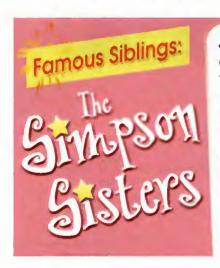

Adjectives	Positive	Comparative	Superlative
of one syllable add -(e)r/-(e)st		nicer (than)	the nicest (of/in) to form their comparative and		colder (than)	the coldest (of/in) superlative forms		bigger (than)	the biggest (of/in)
of two syllables ending in -ly,	busy	busier (than)	the busiest (of/in)
-y, -w also add -er/-est	shallow	shallower (than)	the shallowest (of/in)
of two or more syllables take more/most	famous comfortable	more famous (than) more comfortable (than)	the most famous (of/in) the most comfortable (of/in)

- We use the comparative form + than to compare two people or things. Sally is prettier than Pam. This house is more expensive than the others. (We consider the others as a group.)
- We use the + superlative form + of/In to compare one person or thing with more than two people or things in the same group. She's the fastest typist of all.
- We often use than after a comparative. He's shorter than you. We normally use the before a superlative. We often use of or in after a superlative. We use in with places. I'm the tallest of all. He's the shortest in his class. Note: old older oldest. He's older than me. (NOT: elder; elder isn't used with than) old elder eldest. My eldest sister is a lawyer. (We use elder eldest to talk about relatives only.)
- We can use the before a comparative when we compare only two things of the same kind.
 Of the two cars this is (the) faster. (formal). It is also possible to use the superlative instead of the comparative when we compare two persons or things.
 Which is (the) fastest, a Jaguar or a Fiat? (more usual)
- Certain adjectives form their comparative and superlative in both ways, either by adding
 -er/-est to the positive form or with more/most. Some of these are: clever, common, cruel, friendly, gentle, narrow, pleasant, polite, shallow, simple, stupid, quiet. simple simpler simplest ALSO simple more simple the most simple

a) Complete the table by filling in the adjectives, comparatives or superlatives.

Adjective	Comparative	Superlative
old	older than	the oldest shy
		the tallest early the most famous successful

b) Use the comparatives and superlatives from the table above to fill in the gaps.

Put the adjectives in brackets into the comparative or superlative form, adding any necessary words.

- 6 A: Whales are (big) dolphins.
 - B: I know. They are huge!
- 7 A: What time is (early) train to Oxford in the morning?
 - B: The first train leaves at 6 am.

The Comparative and Superlative forms of adverbs are formed in the same way as those of adjectives.

Adverbs	Positive	Comparative	Superlative
adverbs having the same forms as their adjectives add -er/-est	long	longer	(the) longest
'early' drops -y and adds -ier/-iest	early	earlier	(the) earliest
two syllable or compound adverbs take more/most (Compound adverbs are adjectives + -ly. careful - carefully)	often quietly patiently	more often more quietly more patiently	(the) most often (the) most quietly (the) most patiently

Irregular Forms

Adjective/Adverb	Comparative	Superlative
good / well	better	the best
bad / badly	worse	the worst
much many / a lot of	more	the most little	less	the least
far	farther/further	the farthest/furthest

Well is the adverb of good. She is a good cook. She cooks well.

- a) further/farther (adv) = longer (in distance) His office is further/farther away than mine. further (adj) = more For further information contact Mr Smith.
- b) very + positive degree It's very hot in here.
- c) even/much/far/a bit + comparative degree He behaves even worse than before. Jenny is much more patient with children than Julie.
- d) most + adj/adv of positive degree = very She was most obliging. (She was very obliging.)
- e) any + comparative (used in negatives and questions) This essay wasn't any better than the previous one.

17	Write the comparative and superlative forms of the following adverbs
----	--

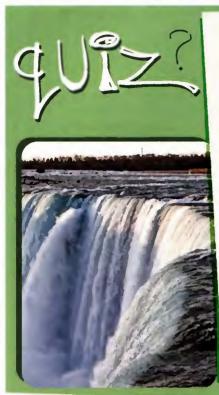

1	early	earlier	(the) earliest.		4	bad
2	carefully			1	5	quietly
3	peacefully				6	hard

Use the adverbs in the list to complete the sentences. Add any necessary words.

	slowly	loudly	easily	carefully	quickly	happily

Too - Enough

• Too comes before an adjective or an adverb in a sentence. It has a negative meaning and shows that there is a greater amount or degree of something than what is wanted.

too + adjective/adverb + to infinitive
The tea is too hot to drink. (=It's so hot that we can't drink it.)

• Enough comes after an adjective or adverb but before a noun. It shows that there is an amount or degree of something that is satisfactory or acceptable.

adjective/adverb + enough enough + noun

She is tall enough to reach the top shelf. (=She can reach the top shelf)

We have got enough money to buy a new car. (We can buy a new car.)

Study the examples:

Henry is tall enough to be a basketball player. (he can be a basketball player – positive meaning)

Henry isn't tall enough to be a basketball player. (he can't be a basketball player – negative meaning)

Henry is too short to be a basketball player. (he can't be a basketball player – negative meaning)

Quite - Fairly - Rather - Pretty

- Quite (= fairly, to some degree) is used in favourable comments. He's quite clever. Quite also means completely. It is used with adverbs, verbs and certain adjectives such as:
 alone, amazing, brilliant, certain, dead, dreadful, different, exhausted, extraordinary, false, good, horrible, impossible, perfect, ridiculous, right, sure, true, useless, etc. She's quite exhausted. (completely exhausted). She dances quite well. I don't quite agree with you.
- Rather is used in unfavourable comments. It's rather cold today. It is also used in favourable comments when it means 'to an unusual degree'. The film was rather interesting. (It was more interesting than we expected.) Rather is also used with comparative degree. It's rather warmer today than yesterday. (NOT: it's quite warmer ...)
- Fairly and pretty are synonymous with quite and rather. Quite is used before a/an. She's quite a good teacher. Rather is used before or after a/an. It was a rather hot day. It was rather a hot day. Fairly and pretty are used after a. She's a fairly/pretty good teacher.

Clauses of Result

Clauses of result are used to express the result of something. They are introduced by the following words/expressions: that (after such / so ...), (and) as a result, (and) as a consequence, consequently, so, etc.

There were so many people at the party that I didn't have time to talk to everyone.

- Main Clause -

Clause of Result -

- such a(n) + (adjective) + singular countable noun
 It was such a bad flight (that) we'll never forget it.

 Such is also used with a lot of. There is such a lot of noise (that) I can't work.
- such + (adjective) + uncountable / plural noun
 It was such nice weather (that) we went to the park. (NOT: such a nice weather)
 They were such cheap books (that) I bought them all.

 So and such can be used without that. He's so rude (that) nobody speaks to him.
- so + adjective / adverb

I'm so hungry (that) I could eat a horse. He ran so fast (that) he won the race.

So is also used with much, many, few or little. He's got so little patience with children (that) he can't be a teacher. She's got so many dresses (that) she can't decide which one to put on.

- so + adjective + a(n) + noun
 It was so nice a day that we went to the beach. (not usual)
- as a result / therefore / consequently + clause
 I had forgotten my passport and as a result / therefore I couldn't cross the border. He didn't work hard. Consequently / Therefore he lost his job. He didn't work hard. He therefore/consequently lost his job.
- Clauses of result follow the rule of the sequence of tenses. When the verb of the main clause is in a present or future form, the verb of the clause of result is also in a present form, and when the verb of the main clause is in a past form, the verb of the clause of result is also in a past form.

It's such strong coffee that I can't drink it. She was so tired that she couldn't concentrate.

Fill in: so, such or such a.

 - B: I loved it. I've never seen great live performance before.
- 5 A: I really love that mobile phone.
 - B: So do I, but it's expensive.

Clauses of Reason

Clauses of reason are used to express the reason for something. They are introduced by the following words/expressions: as, since (= because), because, for (= because), as long as (= because), the reason for, the reason (why), on the grounds that. Because usually answers a why-question. "Why was he sad?" "Because he had failed his exams." The clause of reason introduced by for never precedes the main clause. For always comes after a comma in written speech or a pause in oral speech. She didn't come on time because she was held up in traffic. She didn't come on time, for she was held up in traffic.

- When the clause of reason precedes the main clause, we separate the two clauses with a comma. Since she isn't at home, we'll go without her.
- Reason can also be expressed with: Because of / Due to + noun / -ing form. Because of/Due to the fog, all train departures were cancelled. Due to the fact / Because of the fact + that-clause. Due to the fact / Because of the fact that there was fog, all train departures were cancelled.

Clauses / Linking words

Participle relative clauses

Relative clauses can be changed to participle phrases. We can use an active/passive participle in a relative clause without a pronoun or an auxiliary. Note the examples:
 The woman sitting in front of you is my cousin. (= The woman who is sitting in front of you.)
 Anyone lying will be punished. (= Anyone who lies will be punished.)
 Meals served cold are cheaper. (= Means which are served cold.)
 The machine bought at the local shop was faulty. (= The machine which we bought.)

A1 Rewrite the following relative clauses, as in the example.

1	The woman who is talking is an actress.	4	People who are caught stealing are imprisoned.
2	The woman talking is an actress The man who is driving that bus is my brother.	5	The woman who lives in this house is Russian.

Defining/Non-Defining Relative Clauses

3 The car which was broken into was a Porsche.

There are two types of relative clauses: defining relative clauses and non-defining relative clauses.

6 The man who is playing the piano is blind.

- A defining relative clause gives necessary information and is essential to the meaning of the main sentence. It is not put in commas. The teacher who teaches Maths is popular in the school. (The relative clause is necessary to identify which teacher is meant.)
- A non-defining relative clause gives extra information not essential to the meaning of the main sentence. The relative clause is put in commas. Mr Jones, who teaches Science, is very popular in the school. (The relative clause isn't necessary because we know which teacher is meant.)
- Note how the commas change the meaning of the sentence. The tourists, who had valid passports, were allowed into the country. (all the tourists had valid passports). The tourists who had valid passports were allowed into the country. (not all the tourists, only those whose passports were valid)
- Who, which or that can be omitted when used as the object of the defining relative clause. Here's the report (which/that) he brought us yesterday. ('which/that' as an object can be omitted). She's the woman who/that was promoted to sales manager last week. ('who' as a subject cannot be omitted). Who/Which are not omitted in non-defining relative clauses. That cannot replace who or which. David, who works really hard, got a promotion. (NOT: David, that works really hard, got a promotion.) He invited me to the party, which was very kind of him.

Fill in the correct relative pronouns or adverbs. Put commas where necessary. Write D (for defining), ND (for non-defining) and say whether the relative pronouns can be omitted or not.

	The foodthat I like best is spaghetti(D-omitted)	6	The actor I admire the most is Robert De Niro.
2	Fred, whose mother lives in Edinburgh, has gone to Scotland. (NP-not omitted).	7	Emma sister is an actress is going on holiday to Hollywood

Passive Voice / Causative Form

Listen and repeat. Then act out.

Passive Voice

We form the passive with the verb to be and the past participle of the main verb.

	Active Voice	Passive Voice
Present Simple	They serve dinner at 6:00.	Dinner is served at 6:00.
Present Continuous	They are serving dinner now.	Dinner is being served now.
Past Simple	They served dinner.	Dinner was served.
Past Continuous	They were serving dinner.	Dinner was being served.
Future Simple	They will serve dinner.	Dinner will be served.
Present Perfect	They have served dinner.	Dinner has been served.
Past Perfect	They had served dinner.	Dinner had been served.
Future Perfect	They will have served dinner.	Dinner will have been served.
Present infinitive	They should serve dinner.	Dinner should be served.
Perfect infinitive	They should have served dinner.	Dinner should have been served.
-ing form	He likes people serving his dinner.	He likes his dinner being served.
Perfect -ing form	Having served dinner,	Dinner having been served,
Modals + be + p.p.	You must serve dinner.	Dinner must be served.

The Present Perfect Continuous, Future Continuous and Past Perfect Continuous are not normally used in the passive.

• We can use the verb to get instead of the verb to be in everyday speech, when we talk about things that happen by accident or unexpectedly. He got hurt last Monday.

We use the Passive:

- when the agent (the person who does the action) is unknown, unimportant or obvious from the context. The door had been locked. (we don't know who locked it – unknown agent) Repairs are being made to the car. (by the mechanic – obvious agent)
- when we are interested more in the action than the person who carries it out, such as in news reports, formal notices, instructions, processes, headlines, advertisements, etc. The whole area was evacuated. (news report) Breakfast is served from 6.00 to 10.30. (formal notice)
- to make statements more formal or polite. "My new dress has been ruined". (more polite than saying "You ruined my dress").
- to put emphasis on the agent. The Pyramids were built by the ancient Egyptians.

Changing from Active into Passive

To change a sentence from active into the passive:

- a) the object of the active sentence becomes the subject in the passive sentence.
- b) the active verb remains in the same tense, but changes into a passive form,
- c) the subject of the active sentence becomes the agent, and is either introduced with the preposition by or omitted.

	subject	verb	object
active	The mayor	opened	the new school.
	subject	verb	agent

• Only transitive verbs (verbs followed by an object) can be changed into the passive:

active: Mary feeds the dogs. (transitive verb)

passive: The dogs are fed by Mary.

but: They sleep early every night. (The verb sleep in this sentence is intransitive; not followed by an object. The sentence cannot be changed into the passive.)

Some transitive verbs, such as have, fit, suit, resemble, etc. cannot be changed into the passive. She resembles her father in many ways.

- We use by + agent to say who or what carries out the action. We use with + instrument / material / Ingredient to say what the agent used to carry out the action. The cake was made by Ann. It was made with eggs, flour and butter.
- With verbs which take two objects such as bring, allow, award, bring, buy, feed, give, grant, hand, lend, offer, owe, pass, post, promise, read, send, show, take, tell, throw and write, it is more usual to begin the passive sentence with the person. We can make two different passive sentences.

active: They offered Ann a job.

passive: a) Ann was offered a job. (more usual)

b) A job was offered to Ann. (less usual)

- The agent is not omitted when it is a specific or an important person, or when it is essential to the meaning of the sentence. The light bulb was invented by Thomas Edison.
- By + agent is omitted when the agent is unknown, unimportant, obvious from the context or reterred to by words such as people, one, someone/somebody, they, he, etc.
 active: They painted the house.

passive: The house was painted. (by them is omitted)

• The verbs make, see, help, and hear are followed by an infinitive without 'to' in the active, but by a to-infinitive in the passive.

active: They helped him tidy the garage.
passive: He was helped to tidy the garage.

Note: hear, see, watch can be followed by a present participle in the active and passive.

active: I heard her practising the piano.
passive: She was heard practising the piano.

Passive Voice / Causative Form

- The verbs believe, expect, feel, hope, know, report, say, think, understand, etc. have both personal and impersonal constructions in passive. active: People believe he is a liar.
 - passive: a) He is believed to be a liar. (personal construction)
 - b) It is believed that he is a liar. (impersonal construction)
- We use be + past participle or have been + past participle after modal verbs (will, can, may etc.). He can't repair the lock. → The lock can't be repaired. They may have painted the house. → The house may have been painted.
- Verbs followed by a preposition (e.g. accuse sb of, look after, etc.) take the preposition immediately after them when turned into the passive. They accused him of murder. → He was accused of murder.
- In passive questions with who/whom/which we do not omit by. Who gave you this book? → Who were you given this book by? Who signed the letter? → Who was this letter signed by?
- Participles like amazed, broken, interested, pleased, worried, etc. can be used either as adjectives or past participles in the passive. If these participles are used as adjectives, they cannot be turned into the active. Compare: The first time/saw the building/was amazed. ('amazed' is used as an adjective) I was amazed by your work. ('amazed' is used as a past participle - Your work amazed me.)

Write sentences in the passive, as in the example.

1	(The floor/not clean/yet) . The floor hasn't been	clea	ned yet.
2	(The politician/interview/now)

- The verb to have, used in the causative, forms its negations and questions with do/does (Present Simple) and did (Past SImple). She doesn't have her hair dyed. Did you have your curtains put up?
- We can use the causative instead of the passive to express accidents or misfortunes. She had her car stolen. (= Her car was stolen.) He had his leg broken. (= His leg was broken.)
- Get can be used instead of have in the causative. I had/got my tooth taken out yesterday. Get is stronger in meaning than have and can be used to suggest difficulty. Get the door repaired, will you? He finally got the seats booked.
- Make / have + object + bare infinitive are used to express that someone causes someone else to do something, but their meaning is slightly different. He made Ann type the letter. (He insisted that Ann should type the letter.) He had Ann type the letter. (He asked Ann to type the letter.)
- Get + object + to-infinitive is used to show that someone persuades someone else to do something. He got his mum to bake him a cake. (He persuaded his mum to bake him a cake.)

 Direct Speech is the exact words someone said. We use quotation marks in Direct Speech.

"I won't be back before 7:00," he said.

 Reported Speech is the exact meaning of what someone said but not the exact words. We do not use quotation marks in Reported Speech.

He said he wouldn't be back before 7:00.

Say - Tell - Ask

- We can use the verbs say and tell in direct and reported speech. Say Is used with or without a personal object. When used with a personal object, it is always followed by the preposition to (said to me). (Direct Speech) He said to me, "I can fix it." → (Reported Speech) He said (that) he could fix it.
- Tell is always followed by a personal object (told me), (Direct Speech) "I can do it," he said to me. - (Reported Speech) He told me he could do it.
- Ask is used in reported questions and commands. Ask is also used in direct questions when it is followed by the person the words were spoken to.

He said to me, "Please, don't go!" → He asked me not to go. He asked, "Are you OK?" → He asked me if I was OK.

Expressions with say	say good morning/evening, etc., say something/nothing, etc., say a few words, say so, say no more, say for certain, etc.
Expressions with tell	tell the truth, tell a lie, tell (sb) the time, tell sb one's name, tell a story, tell a secret, tell sb the way, tell one from another, tell sb's fortune, tell sb so, tell the difference, etc.
Expressions with ask	ask a favour, ask the time, ask a question, ask the price, etc.

Changing from Direct into Reported Speech (Statements)

- Inverted commas are omitted in Reported Speech. That is optional in reported sentences.
 "I'm going out," he said. → He said (that) he was going out.
- When the reporting verb (said, told, etc.) is in the past, all the following verbs usually change into a past form too. "I enjoy dancing," she said. → She said she enjoyed dancing.
 However, the tenses do not change in Reported Speech when:
 - a) the reporting verb (said, told, etc.) Is In the Present, Future or Present Perfect tense. "The station is far from here," he says. → He says the station is far from here.
 - b) the speaker expresses general truths or laws of nature.

"Water turns into ice," he said. → He said water turns into ice. (law of nature)

- If the speaker expresses something which Is believed to be true, the tenses may change or remain unchanged. If something untrue is expressed, then the tenses definitely change.
 "She likes strawberries very much," he said. (true) → He said she likes/liked strawberries very much.
 "Canada is a poor country," he said. (untrue) → He said Canada was a poor country.
- The Past Simple changes into the Past Perfect or can remain the same. When the reported sentence contains a time clause, the tenses do not change.
 - "I was early for the meeting," she said. → She said she was/had been early for the meeting.
 "While I was staying in Madrid, I met Pedro twice," she said. → She said she had met/met Pedro twice while she was staying in Madrid.
- The Past Perfect and the Past Continuous usually remain the same in Reported Speech.
 "I was watching TV while Ann was reading a book." → He said he was watching TV while Ann was reading a book.

7 Re

Reported Speech

- If the reported sentence deals with the unreal past, type 2 or 3 conditionals or wishes, the tenses remain the same.
 - "It's time we went," he said. → He said it was time they went.
 - "If I were you, I would apologise," he said. → He said that if he were me, he would apologise.
- Personal pronouns and possessive adjectives change according to the context.
- · Certain words change as follows depending on the context.
 - Direct Speech: this/these here come "Put that box down over here," she said.

 Reported Speech: that/those there go She told him to put that box down over there.
- Time words and tenses can change or remain the same depending on the time reference. If the reported sentence is out of date, the tenses change. If the reported sentence is up to date, the tenses can remain the same.

"I'm going to Madrid next week," she said. → She said she is going /was going to Madrid next week. (up-to-date reporting – immediately reported after said)

"I'm going to Madrid in March," she said. → She said she was going to Madrid in March. (Now it's April. She was in Madrid in March, out-of-date reporting.)

	"I will not repeat this again," he said to us.

Reported Questions / Indirect Questions

"I've applied for several jobs this week," he said.

- In reported questions the verbs are usually in the affirmative and the question mark becomes a full stop. To report a question we use: a) ask + wh- word (who, where, etc) when the direct question begins with a wh- word, b) ask + if/whether when the direct question begins with an auxiliary verb (do, have, can, etc.). Pronouns, possessive adjectives, tenses, time expressions, etc. change as in statements.
 He said, "What are you doing?" → He asked what I was doing.
 He said, "Did you enjoy the party?" → He asked if/whether I enjoyed/had enjoyed the party.
- We use indirect questions to ask for information/advice and reported questions to report someone else's questions, suggestions, offers or requests. Indirect questions are introduced with: Could you tell me ...?, Do you know ...?, I wonder ..., I want to know ..., I doubt ..., etc. and their verb is in the affirmative. If the indirect question starts with I wonder ..., I want to know ... or I doubt ..., then the question mark is omitted. Question words (what, who, where, etc.) or whether can be followed by an infinitive in the reported sentence.

Direct questions	He asked me, "Shall I phone her?" He asked me, "What time is it?" He asked me, "Where can I put it?"
Reported questions	He asked me whether he should phone her. He asked me what time it was. He asked me where he could put it. or He asked me where to put it.
Indirect questions	I wonder whether to phone her / whether I should phone her. Do you know what time it is? Do you know where I can put it? or Do you know where to put it?

Reporting Commands/Requests/Suggestions

To report commands, requests, suggestions or instructions, we use an introductory verb (advise, ask, beg, instruct, urge, offer, order, suggest, tell, etc.) followed by a to-infinitive, an -ing form or that-clause according to the introductory verb.

"Touch your toes," he said to us. → He told us to touch our toes. (command)

"Don't lie down," he said to us. → He told us not to lie down. (command)

"Can I go out?" he said. → He asked to go out. (request)

"Please, lend me some money," he said to her. → He asked her to lend him some money. (request)

"Please, please, forgive me!" she said. → She begged me to forgive her. (beg)

"Let's play football," he said. → He suggested playing football. (suggestion)

"Put all the ingredients in the bowl," she told him. → She told him to put all the ingredients in the bowl. (instructions)

Modals in Reported Speech

- The forms of some modal verbs change in Reported Speech when the reported sentence is out of date. Will/Shall → would, can → could/would/be able to, may → might/could, shall → should (asking for advice) or would (asking for information) / (expressing offers), must → must/had to (obligation) (*must remains the same when it expresses possibility or deduction), needn't → didn't need to/didn't have to/wouldn't have to.
- Would, could, used to, mustn't, should, might, ought to and had better remain the same.

Punctuation in Direct Speech

- We capitalise the first word of the quoted sentence. The full stop, the question mark, the exclamation mark and the comma come inside the inverted commas. The comma comes outside the inverted commas only when "he said/asked" precedes the quoted sentence. "She is on holiday," he said. He said, "She is on holiday." "She," he said, "is on holiday." We do not use a comma after the question mark. "Shall we go out?" he asked. BUT He asked, "Shall we go out?"
- The subject pronoun comes before the reporting verb (said, asked, etc) whereas the noun subject often comes after 'said', 'asked', etc. at the end or in the middle of the quoted sentence. "She failed the test," he said. "She failed the test," said Tom. "She," said Tom, "failed the test."
 BUT He/Tom said, "She failed the test." (NOT: Said Tom, "She failed the test.")
- Each time the speaker changes we normally start a new paragraph.

- 24 Punctuate the following making any other necessary changes.
 - 1 "Shall we play tennis on Saturday?" she asked.
- 2 Colin his mother said is not here
- 3 He said stop making noise
- 4 Why are you late the teacher asked
- 5 Red is my favourite colour Tom said
- 6 Danny said I play the piano
- 7 Do you prefer basketball or football Peter asked
- 8 Barbara said I wasn't even listening
- 25 Turn the following into direct speech. Be careful of the punctuation.

The policeman ordered the driver to stop his car. The driver agreed, but he wondered what the matter was. The policeman inquired if the driver had seen the speed limit signs. The driver denied having seen any. The policeman explained that it was illegal to drive at more than 50 km an hour on that stretch of road. The driver protested that he hadn't been speeding but the policeman insisted that he would have to give him a ticket.

	"Stop the carl" said the policeman.

Conditionals / Wishes / Unreal Past

Conditionals

• Conditional clauses have two parts: the *if-*clause (hypothesis) and the main clause (the result).

If you post the invitations today, they will arrive on time.

if-clause main clause

• When the if-clause comes before the main clause, we separate the two clauses with a comma. If you work hard, you will succeed.

We don't use a comma when the *if-*clause follows the main clause. You will succeed if you work hard.

There are four types of conditionals:

	If-clause (hypothesis)	Main clause (result clause)	Use
Type 0 general truth or scientific fact	if/when + present simple	present simple	something which is always true
	If/When water freezes, it turns into ice.
Type 1 real in the present/future	if + any present form (present s., present cont. or present perf.)	future/imperative/can/may/ might/must/should + bare inf./present simple	something likely to happen in the present or the future
	If you finish work early, we'll go for a walk. If you have finished your coffee, we can pay the bill. If you're ill, see a doctor! If you burn yourself, it hurts.
Type 2 unreal in the present or advice	If + past simple or past continuous	would/could/might + bare infinitive	imaginary situation contrary to facts in the present; also used to give advice
	If I had money, I would travel round the world. (but I don't have money – untrue in the present) If I were you, I would take an umbrella. (advice)
Type 3 unreal in the past	If + past perfect or past perfect continuous	would/could/might + have + past participle	imaginary situation contrary to facts in the past; also used to express regrets or criticism
		we would have missed the plan

Conditionals are usually introduced by if or unless (= if not - normally used with type 1 conditionals). The following expressions can be used instead of 'if': providing, provided (that), as long as, in case, on condition (that), but for (= without), otherwise, or else, what if, supposing, even if, only if.

If you don't reserve a ticket, you won't get a seat.

Unless you reserve a ticket, you won't get a seat. (NOT: Unless you don't reserve ...) You will get a seat providing/provided (that)/as long as/only if you reserve a ticket.

Only if you reserve a ticket will you get a seat. (When we begin the sentence with "only if", we invert the subject and the verb of the result clause.)

Reserve a ticket, otherwise/or else you won't get a seat.

What if it rains, will you still go for a picnic with him?

Supposing it rains, will you still go for a picnic with him?

Will you still go for a picnic with him even if it rains?

But for him, I wouldn't have been able to pass the test. (If it hadn't been for him – without his help)

- The future tense is not normally used with an if-clause. Unless you leave now, you will be late. (NOT: Unless you will leave ...) If you pay, you will get a receipt. (NOT: If you will pay ...)
- After 'if' we normally use were instead of was in all persons in type 2 conditionals in formal situations. Was is mainly used in spoken English.
 If I were/was you, I wouldn't buy such an expensive dress.
- We do not normally use will, would or should in an if-clause. However, we can use will, would, should in conditionals to make a request or express insistence, annoyance, doubt or uncertainty. If you will/would calm down for a minute, I will be able to help you. (request Will you please calm down?)

If you will make that noise, I'll send you out. (insistence – If you insist on making that noise ...)

If you will take my iPod again without asking, I'll never lend you anything. (annoyance – If you do that again, I'll be very annoyed.)

If you should need any help, ask me. (uncertainty - I am not sure you will need help.)

We can omit 'if'. When we omit 'if' should, were and had (past perfect) come before the subject.
 If he should turn up, tell him to wait for me. → Should he turn up, tell him to wait for me.
 If I were you, I would speak to her. → Were I you, I would speak to her.
 If he had known, he would have told us. → Had he known, he would have told us.

Unreal Past

 The past simple can be used to refer to the present (unreal present) when we talk about imaginary, unreal or improbable situations which are contrary to facts in the present. The past perfect can be used to refer to imaginary, unreal or improbable situations which are contrary to facts in the past (unreal past).

Past Simple is used with:

- Conditionals Type 2 (unreal in the present)
 If I were you, I would pay.
- wish (present) I wish he were here now.
- Suppose/Supposing
 Suppose you were asked to move out, what would you do?
- I'd rather/sooner sb ... (present)
 I'd rather you went now.
- as if/as though (untrue situation in the present)
 He isn't French but he speaks French as if he were from France.
- it's (about/high) time It's time you retired.

Past Perfect is used with:

- Conditionals Type 3 (unreal in the past)
 If I had seen him, I would have told you.
- wish (past) If only you had taken his advice when he gave it.
- Suppose/Supposing
 Suppose you had seen the crime being committed, what would you have done?
- i'd rather/sooner sb ... (past)
 I'd rather you hadn't told all those lies.
- as if/as though (untrue situation in the past)
 He hadn't been awarded the first prize but he behaved as if he had been awarded it.

had better = should

We use had better + infinitive without 'to' to give advice or to say what the best thing to do in a particular situation is.

I had better + present infinitive without 'to' (present/future reference)

We had better stop smoking. (= We should stop smoking.)

It would have been better if + past perfect (past reference)

Countable - Uncountable Nouns

Nouns can be countable (those that can be counted) 1 book, 2 books, etc. – or uncountable (those that can't be counted) flour. Uncountable nouns take a singular verb. Information is available at the front desk. They are not used with a / an. Some, any, no, much, etc. can be used with them. I need some advice. (NOT: an advice). But we say: a relief, a pity, a shame, a wonder, a knowledge (of sth), a help although they are uncountable. What a pity! It's such a shame! The most common uncountable nouns are:

- Mass nouns: fluids: blood, coffee, juice, milk, oil, tea, water, etc., solids: bread, butter, china, coal, fish (meaning food), food, fruit, glass, ice, iron, meat, soap, etc., gases: air, oxygen, pollution, smoke, smog, steam, etc., particles: corn, dust, flour, hair, pepper, rice, salt, sand, sugar, wheat, etc.).
- Subjects of study: Chemistry, Economics, History, Literature, Mathematics, Physics, Psychology, etc.
- Languages: Japanese, English, French, German, Greek, Italian, Spanish, Turkish, etc.
- Games: baseball, billiards, chess, football, golf, rugby, hockey, tennis, etc.
- Diseases: flu, measles, mumps, etc.
- Natural phenomena: darkness, fog, gravity, hail, heat, humidity, lightning, rain (BUT the rains = season of continuous rain in tropical countries), snow, sunshine, thunder, weather, wind, etc.
- Some abstract nouns: accommodation, advice, anger, applause, assistance, behaviour, business, chaos, countryside, courage, damage, dirt, education, evidence, housework, homework, information, intelligence, knowledge, luck, music, news, peace, progress, seaside, shopping, traffic, trouble, truth, wealth, work, etc.
- Collective nouns: baggage, crockery, cutlery, furniture, jewellery, luggage, machinery, money, rubbish, stationery, etc.
- Many uncountable nouns can be made countable by adding a partitive: a piece of paper/cake/information/advice/furniture; a glass/bottle of water/lemonade/iced tea; a jar of jam; a sheet of paper; a box of chocolates; a packet of pasta; a slice/loaf of bread; a pot of yoghurt; a pot/cup of tea; a kilo/pound of meat; a tube of toothpaste; a bar of chocolate/soap; a bit/piece of chalk; an ice cube; a lump of sugar; a bag of flour; a pair of trousers; a game of football; a(n) item/piece of news; a drop/bottle of oil; a tin of salmon; a can of cola; a carton of milk; a block of wood; a flash/bolt of lightning; a clap/peal of thunder, etc.
- Some nouns take only a plural verb. These are objects which consist of two parts: garments (pyjamas, trousers, etc.), tools (scissors, pliers, etc.), Instruments (binoculars, compasses, spectacles, etc.) or nouns such as: arms, ashes, barracks, clothes, congratulations, earnings, (good) looks, outskirts, people, police, premlses, riches, stairs, surroundings, wages, etc.

- Group nouns refer to a group of people. These nouns can take either a singular or a plural verb depending on whether we see the group as a whole or as individuals. Such group nouns are: army, audience, class, club, committee, company, council, crew, crowd, headquarters, family, jury, government, press, public, staff, team, etc. The team was the best in the country. (= the team as a group); The team were all given medals. (= each member separately as individuals)
- With expressions of duration, distance or money meaning 'a whole amount' we use a singular verb.

Two weeks isn't long to wait. Ten miles is a long way to ride. Ten thousand pounds is too much to spend on house repairs.

Some nouns can be used as countable or uncountable, with a difference in meaning.

- Give me a piece of paper, please!
- The needle of a compass always points North.
- It is a custom to give presents at birthdays.
- She has a lot of experience in teaching.

Nouns / Word Formation / Articles

Listen and repeat. Then act out.

Indefinite article (A/An)

- A/An is used with singular countable nouns when we talk about them in general. I can't find a taxi. (Which taxi? Any taxi) Some is used instead of a/an with plural countable nouns. There are some taxis at the taxi rank. Some is also used with uncountable nouns. Give me some sugar please.
 A/An is often used after the verbs be and have. She's a teacher.
- A/An is used to mean per. He works five days a week. A/An is also used before Mr/Mrs/Miss + surname when we refer to an unfamiliar person. There's a Mr Smith waiting for you.
- A/An can also be used with: money (a/one dollar), fractions (a/one quarter), weight/measures (an/one inch), whole numbers (a/one million), price/quantity (£1 a litre), frequency/time (twice a day), distance/fuel (50 miles a gallon), distance/speed (100 km an hour) and illnesses (a headache, a fever, have a cold, catch a cold, (a) toothache, (a) backache, a temperature).
- We use a/an + noun meaning only one (There's a pen on the desk.) and one + noun when we want to emphasise that there is only one (There's only one pen on the desk, not two.).
- A/An is not used before an adjective if it is not followed by a noun. However, if the adjective is followed by a noun, we use a if the adjective begins with a consonant sound and an if the adjective begins with a vowel sound. (It's a bike. It's blue. It's a blue bike.; It's a ball. It's orange. It's an orange ball.)

Fill in: a, an or some where necessary.

Definite article (The)

- The is used with singular and plural nouns, and countable and uncountable ones, to talk about something specific or when the noun is mentioned for a second time. Can you give me the book over there? (Which book? The one over there; specific) (Bob found a passport on the ground. He took the passport to the police station. (the word 'passport' is mentioned for a second time)
- The can also be used with the words: beach, cinema, coast, country(side), earth, ground, jungle, radio, sea, seaside, sky, theatre, weather, world, etc. What's the weather like today?
 We usually say 'television' without 'the'. I like watching TV. BUT Turn off the television.
 Note: We've got a house near the sea. BUT Tom is at sea (he's sailing).
- The is optional with seasons. Where are you going in (the) summer?
- We can use a/an or the before singular countable nouns to refer to a group of people, animals or things. A/The tiger lives in the jungle. (We mean all tigers.) The word 'man' Is an exception. Man is mortal. (NOT: The man) We omit a/an or the before a noun in the plural when it represents a group.

Tigers are dangerous. (NOT: The tigers are dangerous.)

We use the:

- with the names of musical instruments and dances. the guitar, the waltz
- with the names of families (the Simpsons), nationalities ending in -sh, -ch or -ese (the Welsh, the Dutch, the Chinese, etc.). Other plural nationalities are used with or without 'the' ((the) South Africans, (the) Swiss, etc.).
- with titles (the Pope, the Duke of Norfolk, the Queen). BUT 'The' is omitted before titles with proper names. Queen Alexandra
- with adjectives used as plural nouns (the old, the injured, the unemployed, the sick, the privileged, the deaf, etc.) and the superlative degree of adjectives/adverbs (the worst). She's the most sensible girl in the class.
 Note: 'most' used as a determiner followed by a noun does not take 'the'. Most children like animals. BUT Of all European cities Rome has the most beautiful fountains.
- with the words: station, shop, cinema, café, library, city, village, etc. She went to the library to return some books.
- with the words: morning, afternoon, evening, night.
 I'll be at work in the morning. BUT at night, at noon, at midnight, by day/night, at 4 o'clock, etc.
- with historical references/events. the French Revolution, the Dark Ages, the Thirty Years' War BUT World War I)
- with the words: only, last, first (used as adjectives). He was the only person to disagree.

We do not use the:

- with proper nouns. Paul comes from London.
- with the names of sports, games, activities, days, months, holidays, colours, drinks, meals and languages (not followed by the word 'language'). She plays tennis well. She likes blue. We speak French. BUT The Latin language is hardly used now.
- with the names of countries (Portugal), BUT the Netherlands, (the) Sudan, (the) Vatican City, cities (Lisbon), streets (Regent Street, BUT the High Street, the Strand, the Bristol road, the A4, the M1 motorway), squares (Constitution Square), bridges (London Bridge BUT the Bridge of Sighs, the Forth Bridge, the Severn Bridge, the Golden Gate Bridge), parks (Regent's Park), stations (Waterloo Station), individual mountains (Everest), islands (Malta), lakes (Lake Ontario), continents (Asia)

Inversion

There are two ways to invert the subject and the verb:

A. auxiliary verb/modal + subject + main verb

- in questions is she working tomorrow?
- after certain expressions when they are at the beginning of a sentence

In no way

Seldom Little Only in this way In/Under no circumstances Rarely Barely Never Only by Scarcely (ever) ... when Nowhere Never before Nor/Neither Hardly (ever) ... when Not till/until Not since Only then No sooner ... than On no occasion Not (even) once Not only ... but (also)

On no account

Rarely do we see him these days. No sooner had we got into the house than he phoned us.

NOTE: When the following expressions begin a sentence, we use inversion in the main clause. only after, only by, only if, only when, not till/until, not since

Only after he had graduated, did he start looking for a job.

Only if you invite her, will she come to your party.

Not until all tests had been completed, were we told the results.

 after so, such, to such a degree (in result clauses) when they are at the beginning of a sentence So careful is he that he never makes any mistakes.

Such a brilliant student was he that he was offered a scholarship.

• with should, were, had in conditionals at the beginning of the sentence when "if" is omitted

Type 1: Should you see him, tell him to call me. (= If you should see ...)

Type 2: Were I you, I would cancel my trip. (= If I were you ...)

Type 3: Had he known, he would have made arrangements. (= If he had known ...)

• after so, neither/nor, as when expressing agreement

"I hate horror films." "So do I." ('So' is used to agree with an affirmative statement.)

"Jane hasn't returned our calls." "Neither/Nor has her husband." ('Neither/Nor' is used to agree with a negative statement.)

His colleagues respected him as did his boss. ("as did" is used to show both his boss and his colleagues respected him.)

B. maln verb + subject

• after adverbs of place

Here comes the bride! Away ran the thief!

• in Direct Speech when the reporting verb comes after the quote and the subject is a noun "I've never seen him." said Helen.

9 Fill in the gaps, expressing agreement.

 's very beautiful.

Possessive adjectives/pronouns

- Possessive adjectives/pronouns can be used to talk about ownership or the relationship between people. Possessive adjectives are followed by nouns, whereas possessive pronouns are not. This is my diary. It's mine. Sometimes possessive pronouns go at the beginning of a sentence. Theirs is the blue car.
- We use the and not the possessive adjective with preposition phrases, mostly when we are talking about things that happen to parts of people's bodies, for example blows, pains, etc.
 Verbs used in this pattern are: hit, punch, slap, bite, touch, pat, sting, etc. He punched me on the nose. (NOT: en my nose)
- Own is used with possessive adjectives to emphasise the fact that something belongs to one person and no one else.

noun + of + my/your, etc. + own She's got a chauffeur of her own. my/your, etc. + own + noun She's got her own chauffeur.

Reflexive/Emphatic Pronouns (myself, yourself, etc.)

- Reflexive pronouns are used with certain verbs such as behave, burn, cut, enjoy, hurt, kill, look at, laugh at, introduce, dry, teach, etc. or with prepositions when the subject and the object of the verb are the same. Mark (subject) taught himself (object) how to drive.
- Reflexive pronouns can be used after be, feel, look, seem to describe emotions or states. He doesn't seem himself these days. They are also used after prepositions but not after prepositions of place. He is so proud of himself. BUT He looked behind him. (NOT; behind himself)
- Certain verbs do not normally take a reflexive pronoun. These are: wash, shave, (un)dress, afford, complain, meet, rest, relax, stand up, get up, sit down, wake up, etc. He got up and shaved. We don't say: He got up himself and shaved himself. However we can use a reflexive pronoun with wash, shave, or dress when we want to show that the action is difficult. Although Tony is handicapped, he can dress himself.
- Emphatic pronouns have the same form as reflexive pronouns but a different meaning. They emphasise the noun, or the fact that one person, and not another, performs an action. He himself conducted the interview. They also mean 'without help'. She fixed the leak herself. (without help) They go after nouns, pronouns or after 'but' and 'than'. She'd like to marry someone older than herself.

• Note these expressions: Enjoy yourself! (= Have a good time!) Behave yourself! (= Be good!) I like being by myself. (= I like being alone.) She Ilves by herself. (= She lives on her own.) By myself, by yourself, by himself, etc. (= on my own, on your own, on his own, etc.) Help yourself to coffee. (= You're welcome to take some coffee if you want some.) Do it yourself. (= Do it without being helped.) Make yourself at home! (= Feel comfortable.) Make yourself heard. (= Speak loudly enough to be heard by others.) Make yourself understood. (= Make your meaning clear.)

Questions / Short Answers

Yes/No Questions

Questions with Yes/No answers begin with an auxiliary or modal verb (is, are, do, does, have, has, can, must, will, etc.) We use do/does to form questions in present simple and did to form questions in past simple. She is studying. → Is she studying?

He hates bowling. → Does he hate bowling?

(NOT: Does he hates bowling?)

Kim left an hour ago. → Did Kim leave an hour ago? (NOT: Did Kim loft an hour ago?)

Wh- Questions

Wh- questions begin with a question word such as (who, what, where, why, when, whose, which, how, etc.). We put the auxiliary or modal verb before the subject.

question word + auxiliary/modal + subject

"What did you buy?" "A scarf."

"How do you get to work?" "By bus."

When there is a preposition, it usually goes at the end of the question, though in formal English it can be put before the question word. Who is this letter from? (more usual)

From whom is this letter? (formal)

We use questions to ask for information or permission. We also use questions to make suggestions, requests, offers or invitations.

Asking for information: "How much does it cost?" "£10."

Asking for permission: "May I use your phone?" "Of course you may."

Making suggestions: "Shall we have a party?" "Yes, let's."

Making requests: "Could you carry this for me, please?" "Yes, of course."

Making offers: "Would you like some orange juice?" "Yes, please."

Making invitations: "Would you like to spend this weekend with us?" "Yes, I'd love to."

1	(we invite/David to dinner tonight?) . Shall we invite Lavia to anner tonight? (suggestion)
2	(you want/a biscuit?)
3	(how far/it be from your house to the station?)
4	(you like/come sailing at the weekend?)

Questions / Short Answers

Subject/Object Questions

Subject questions are questions we ask when we want to know about the subject of the sentence. These questions usually begin with the words who, what or which. The verb is in the affirmative form.

Object questions are questions we ask when we want to know about the object of the sentence. These questions usually begin with the words who, whose, what or which. The verb is in the interrogative form.

Note: In object questions, if a verb is followed by a preposition, the preposition usually comes at the end of the question. Who did you talk to? Where do you come from?

subject object	subject object
Keith invited Stella. Who invited Stella? (NOT: Who did invite Stella?)	Stella invited Fiona. Who did Stella invite?

If who, which or what are the subject of the question, the word order is the same as in statements (subject questions). If they are the object of the question, the verb is in question form (object questions).

6 Write questions to which the words in bold are the answers.

A farmer, Isaac Jones, reported having seen a UFO. A journalist from the local newspaper interviewed him. Isaac was sleeping in his bed when at around 4 am he was suddenly woken up. The sky lit up and a strong wind blew against his bedroom window. Then an object that looked like a huge plate appeared in the sky. Isaac was shocked and started screaming. He thought the world was being invaded by Martians! Then, all of a sudden, the plate left. It all lasted five minutes, but Mr Jones's wife, Mary, didn't wake up at all. She thinks that her husband just had a nightmare. She told the journalist that Mr Jones should be more worried about the dirty plates in their kitchen sink than alien plates in the sky!

A: What is Isaac Jones's job?

B: He is a farmer.

A: Who interviewed him?

B: A journalist from the local newspaper.

Questions / Short Answers

Indirect Questions

- Indirect questions are used when we ask for information politely. They are introduced with Do you know ...?, Can/Could you tell me ...?, Have you any idea ...? + question word or if/whether. Do you know how old Sam is? Could you tell me how long it takes to get there? Have you any idea when she is leaving? Do you know if/whether there are any vacancies here?
 - a) Direct question: Where is the bank? Indirect question: Could you tell me where the bank is?
 - b) Direct question: Has Tom been invited to the party? Indirect question: Do you know if/whether Tom has been invited to the party?
- The word order of indirect questions is the same as in statements (subject + verb).

 Can you tell me where you saw him? (NOT: Can you tell me where did you see him?)

 Do you know whether they are getting married? (NOT: Do you know whether are they getting married?)

 How far did they travel? → Do you know how far they travelled?

 When do you plan to move? → Can you tell me when you plan to move?

Negative Questions

• Negative questions are formed with not but there is a difference in word order between the short and full form.

(Short form) Didn't they inform you? Haven't they returned yet? (auxiliary + n't + subject + verb) (Full form) Did they not inform you? Have they not returned yet? (auxiliary + subject + not + verb) We normally use the short form in everyday speech and the full form only for emphasis.

- Negative questions are used to express:
 - a) surprise Don't you know who Pelé is?
 - b) annoyance/sarcasm Can't you keep quiet for a second?
 - c) expectation of a 'Yes'-answer Don't you think she's rather mean?
 - d) wish to persuade sb Won't you tell me who did it?

Write the short form of the following negative questions.

1	Has he not handed in his essay yet? .Hasn't he handed in his essay yet?	5	Do you not know how to send an email?

Question Tags

- Question tags are short questions at the end of a statement. They are mainly used when we want to confirm something or when we want to find out if something is true or not.
 They're leaving soon, aren't they?
- Question tags are formed with an auxiliary or modal verb from the main sentence and the appropriate subject pronoun. When the verb of the sentence is in the present or past simple, we form the question tag with do/does/did + subject pronoun She likes classical music, doesn't she? She arrived early, didn't she? He has been at home, hasn't he?
- A positive statement is followed by a negative question tag, and a negative statement is followed by a positive question tag. She is going to apply for that job, isn't she? You weren't listening, were you? They called off the wedding, didn't they?
- Everyone/Someone/Anyone/No one form their question tags with an auxillary verb + they. Everyone knows the way to the church, don't they?
- When we aren't sure of the answer and want to check information, our voice goes up in the question tag. He has been to Paris, hasn't he? (not sure)

When we are sure of the answer and expect agreement, our voice goes down in the question tag. She has got a pet dog, hasn't she? (sure)

- Question tags can also be affirmative affirmative. If the voice goes up, we mean "Tell me more". She's getting married, is she? If the voice goes down, we express negative feelings such as disappointment or disapproval. We don't expect an answer. What a pity, the party's cancelled, is it?
- Echo tags are a response to an affirmative or negative sentence. They are used in everyday speech to ask for more Information, to show Interest, concern, anger, surprise, etc.
 Affirmative: He's leaving. He is, isn't he? (confirmation) He's leaving. He is? (surprise)
 Negative: He isn't leaving. He isn't, is he? (confirmation) He isn't leaving. He isn't? (surprise)

Study the following question tags.

1	"l am"	\rightarrow	"aren't I?"	I am shorter than her, aren't I?
2	"I used to"	\rightarrow	"didn't !?"	She used to like it here, didn't she?
