Meet three people whose sense of smell has made a difference to their lives.

Helen Keller was a famous activist for the deaf and blind, and was deaf and blind herself. She had an extraordinary sense of smell, and could identify people's jobs by the odour on their clothes. 'When a person passes,' she said, 'I get a scent impression of where he has been - the kitchen, the garden, or the sickroom.' She also described smell as something 'that transports us across thousands of miles and all the years we have lived.' A smell can remind us of another time and place.

James Bell has worked for a perfume company for over twenty years. He says, 'You start with a superior sense of smell, but you must train it, like a concert pianist.' James passed a 'smell test' and the company sent him to study at a perfumery school in France, where he learned to recognize about 2,800 synthetic and 140 natural materials. Since that time he has helped to create some of the world's favourite fragrances.

Journalist Lucy Mangan has never smelled the fragrance of a rose. She has never tried different perfumes in a shop. Lucy is anosmic, which means she can't smell anything. She has been anosmic since birth. As 75–95% of the flavour of food comes from its smell, meals have never had much flavour. She can feel the different textures of lasagne, steak or fish, but for her they're all quite tastel

Over the next three years, Liz learned to sail – and in October 2005, she set off on her journey. It was hard for Liz to leave behind her friends and family, but over ten years and more than 25,000 miles later, she's still travelling. She's been to so many fascinating places. Among other countries, she has stopped off in Mexico, Costa Rica, Panama and the Galapagos Islands.

During the day, Liz sails, cooks and maintains the yacht. When she stops somewhere, she surfs, does yoga and writes her blog. Adverts on Liz's blog have been paying for her trip, and from her photos it looks like she's been having a fantastic time. There are beautiful beaches, and there's crystal clear water and perfect surf.

But life on the ocean can also be difficult. 'It feels so great to inspire others to live their dreams,' says Liz, 'but it's impossible to explain to them what this life is really like; I've worked hard and it hasn't always been easy or fun.'

She also gets very lonely, and though the kindness of strangers helps her to keep going, she's looking for some company on the boat to stay with her as she carries on her journey around the world. Liz, I think I'll join you! Does anyone else want some adventure?

STORY IN ENGLISH • The Swiss Family Robinson

BEFORE YOU READ Work in pairs. Answer these questions about the family's time on the island.

a What do they eat? b Where do they sleep?

c What are the dangers?

Read the text to understand the general sense. Then read it more carefully again to focus on words you don't know.

Chapter 3 • On the island

1 Mother put her hands under the water, and quickly pulled a big blue lobster off Franz's leg. 'Here's our dinner!' she cried happily. The family ate it hungrily. Franz thought of names for the two dogs: 'Bello' and 'Juno'.

2 In the evening, Father put up ropes between three trees. He put cloth from the ship over them. 'Here's a tent for us,' he said.

3 The next morning. Father and Fritz left the beach for the forest. They found a river. Near the river were tall coconut trees, but how could they bring the coconuts down?

Suddenly, the monkeys in the trees began throwing coconuts at them! 'They're angry with us,' Fritz laughed. Then he and Father began hitting the trees, and the monkeys threw more coconuts down.

5 Just then, a little monkey fell from a tree. 'Catch it, Fritz!' Father cried.

6 Fritz caught the little monkey and carried it in his arms, 'Let's call him Knips,' he said. From the hill, they could see most of the island. 'We're the only people from the ship here,' Father thought.

7 The next day, Father, Fritz, and Hans took the raft to the ship. They found seeds and guns. And the animals were alive, too.

Father tied barrels to the animals. Then he tied ropes from these to the raft. 'Now they can swim easily behind us,' he said.

READING CHECK Work in pairs. Correct six mistakes in the chapter summary.

Mother pulled a big lobster off Franz's arm. Later that night, Father put wood between two trees, and made a tent for them. In the morning, monkeys threw apples at Father and Fritz. One monkey fell from the trees, and Father caught it. The next day, Father, Fritz, and Hans took animals from the ship, and tied them to boxes. The animals swam behind the raft. Suddenly, they saw something dark in the water. It was a very big rock!

8 They moved slowly through the water. Then, suddenly, something dark went under the raft. It was a big shark! Fritz took a gun and stood up. 'Careful!' Father cried, 'Don't fall!'

3 WHAT DO YOU THINK? Work in pairs. Talk about what happens in the next chapter. Think about any other dangerous animals they meet and if they find somewhere on the island to live.

Chapter 4 • The tree house

The shark came nearer to the raft. At the last minute, Fritz shot it,
'You hit it!' Hans cried. After that, they watched the water carefully, but the shark didn't come back.

3 'We need a better house,' Father said the next morning.

They found some big trees on a hill. Father threw a rope over a branch, and went up into the biggest tree.

'Here's our new house!' he said.

Father and the older boys put long pieces of wood between branches for the floor. Then they made the rooms.

In the autumn, Mother made a garden with their seeds. The boys looked for food in the forest. They put it in barrels for the winter.

Father made a room for their animals under the tree house. Then he put his tools in the beach tent.

When the winter came, the family stayed in their tree house. And their animals stayed in their home at the foot of the tree. It rained for weeks.

'We haven't got much food,' Father wrote in his journal one day. 'Will our animals live? Will our seeds grow?'

FACES OF THE FUTURE

Humans have adapted and changed through the ages and, unless a catastrophe destroys the Earth, we'll probably survive and continue to change. Scientists are already saying that children born now might live until they're 150. Further into the future, perhaps people won't die but simply buy new body parts as they get older!

What other changes are possible in the years ahead?

I Homo Informaticus If we continue to use computers and screens more and more, our eyes and brains will probably get bigger in order to process more information. 2 Neo-humans If there's a terrible war or an epidemic, survivors might leave the cities and live in caves. They'll become stronger, hairier and more agile. 3 Homo Perfectus If scientists manipulate human genes, will some people pay to have children who are better looking, healthier and more intelligent than 'normal' humans?

4 CUDOTGS Soldiers of the future might be part human, part machine, with super-strong body parts, auto-zoom eyes and a brain connected by Wi-Fi to super computers. § Space humans If Earth gets too crowded, humans will colonize other planets. If they adapt to a different atmosphere and gravity on another planet, they won't look the same as humans on Earth.

Which possibilities do you think are most likely?

Remember

BEFORE YOU READ Imagine you've got your own space at home. What are you going to put in it? What are you going to use it for?

Chapter 5 • The cave house

After winter, spring came. All their animals were alive, and little green plants grew in the garden. 'Very good!' Father said. 'Let's go to the beach for my tools."

When they arrived, they couldn't see the ship any more, but they found pieces of wood by the sea. Their tent was in pieces - with Father's tools, cloth, and barrels all over the beach.

Knips went into a hole in the cliffs. 'Where is he?' thought Ernst.

He looked into the hole. 'Hey, everyone!' he called. 'There's a big cave behind this cliff! What a good new home for us!

5 For weeks after that, Father and the boys worked on the cave house. They made rooms, and cut windows in the rock.

One hot day, the family were near the river. Their thirsty animals began drinking. Suddenly a very big snake came out of the water. 'Quick! Move the animals to the cave!' Father cried.

They stayed in the cave all day. Father and the boys stood at the windows with guns, but the snake didn't come.

'Perhaps it went away,' Father said that evening. 'I'm going to look.'

When he opened the door, their horse ran out into the swamp. Fritz went after it before Father could stop him.

3 Fritz wanted to catch the horse. But the snake waited out in the swamp. And now THINK! Which things would you change about your school? Why?

BRIT School, London Are you looking for a secondary school with a creative atmosphere? You'll be able to find it at the BRIT School.

BRIT School students can take special classes in technology and performing arts like dance, singing, music and drama. However, they also do ordinary subjects, such as English, maths, science and foreign languages. After they graduate, many students will be able to have very successful careers as singers or actors.

Young people can join the school from the age of fourteen. Its unusual curriculum means students do exams and take part in performances and exhibitions. The timetable is challenging: they have to practise at break time and after school, but they can't forget to do their homework on time! If you study hard and have a.passion for performing arts, you won't be able to resist the BRIT School.

MIVER PLUTE SCHOOL

Buenos Aires, Argentina

This is definitely a school with a difference. The school has over 2,000 students, and is located in the stadium of one of South America's most important football teams.

River Plate is unique because it's the only sports institution in the world that's got its own kindergarten — with students as young as five years old — school, college and university. If you get good marks at the school, you can get into college or university at the same location. Students can watch football matches and see famous players practise. But they can also do other sports, like swimming in the indoor pool and playing basketball on the school court.

The school started in 1928 for young football players, but in those days, girls couldn't attend the classes. People believed that girls couldn't play football as well as boys. Now the school and its ideas have changed and everyone has the chance to be part of this historic institution.

THINK! What ways can people learn outside the classroom?

Is school the best place to learn?

There are many alternatives to school, such as homeschooling or studying online. But is school the best place for young people to learn?

In my opinion, it's better to learn in school for several reasons. Firstly, in school, students often have to work together, so they learn from each other and become sociable. Secondly, school students must obey rules. This provides a structured day where students attend classes in a wide variety of subjects. They learn the importance of doing work on time and preparing for exams. This teaches them how to behave in society and future jobs. Finally, at school, students have the chance to participate in team sports and other projects that involve a group of people.

To conclude, students learn many things and in many ways at school. All in all, I think school is the best place to learn.

The next summer, Fritz made a new boat. with Father. They made it from wood and animal skins.

When the boat was ready, Fritz took his boat out across the bay to explore the island. Mother and Father watched from the beach.

'Is he going to be OK?' Mother asked, 'Elizabeth, he's twenty-one,' Father answered. 'I was twenty-one when I met you - remember?' Mother smiled at that, but she didn't feel better about Fritz.

> Fritz caught one of these birds. Just then, he saw a piece of cloth on its leg. It's a message!' he thought excitedly. He quickly took the piece of cloth off the bird's leg, and opened it.

3 Over many years, the family changed their garden into a little farm. They grew food on the farm, and had lots of animals.

4 Little Franz was twelve now, and he liked to explore the island with his older brothers. They often went away for days.

'I worry about them,' Mother said.

I worry sometimes, too,' Father answered, 'but they must learn to be men.'

For many days, Fritz explored the island by boat. He swam in the sea, and he hunted in the forest.

One afternoon, Fritz caught lots of fish. Suddenly, lots of birds came down from the sky, and they began to take all the fish from his boat.

CHANGING THE WORLD WITH KINDNESS

Sometimes a spontaneous act of kindness can change another person's life, Read about these incredible people and their actions that helped to make the world a better place for someone else.

DANIEL'S STOR

Life can't be easy for musician Daniel Black. After a cycling accident in 2009, he couldn't walk or play the guitar any more. Doctors thought that with expensive surgery he might walk again. He had saved £22,000 when he heard about a young boy with a serious illness who also needed surgery to allow him to walk. Daniel decided to donate all the money he had to the boy's family. The result? The little boy was able to get his. surgery. Daniel received a special award at the Pride of Britain Awards.

Waitress Sarah Holdahl bought lunch for two soldiers in her restaurant when she heard they didn't get paid due to government problems. She wanted to support and thank them for serving their country. On her TV show, talk show host Ellen DeGeneres gave a reward to Sarah for her kindness: the lunch money ($27.75) and an extra $10,0001

Glen James was an unemployed office worker and homeless when he did something both honest and kind. When he found a bag with $42,000 in it, Glen decided to do what most people wouldn't do: he gave it to the police to return to its owner. A man called Ethan Whittington, who must be very kind himself, read about Glen and started a campaign to collect money for him. The campaign raised an amazing $160,000 and Glen's life hasn't been the same since.

These stories may persuade you that when you spread a little kindness, there may not be a personal benefit, but you'll feel good about yourself and you could encourage people to be kind to you, too. Perhaps your kindness will help someone to be kind to another person!

WRITING • A discussion essay

I can contrast ideas and give my opinion.

THINK! What ways can people help in their community?

EVERYONE SHOULD JOIN A NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH SCHEME. DISCUSS.

- A If everyone joined a neighbourhood watch scheme, fewer crimes might happen. But is it right to expect everyone in a community to join such a scheme?
- On the one hand, people may feel frightened that they would be in danger if they tried to stop a crime in progress.

- On the other hand, it's important to take action to protectour communities. I'm not in favour of people doing anything that could be dangerous. However, anybody can safely help to prevent a crime by calling the police when they see something suspicious. Also, if criminals realized that a community had such a scheme, they would not commit crimes in that neighbourhood.
- D All things considered, I would encourage everyone to join a neighbourhood watch scheme. The main reason I am for this is to make criminals less likely to commit crimes. As a result, neighbourhoods will be much safer for everyone.

1 DEFORE YOU READ Work in pairs. If you were on an island and had only two books with you, which two books would you have? Why?

Think about how Jenny feels about being alone. How do you know?

Chapter 7 . A new member of the family @ Fritz looked for Jenny for two days. In the 1 Fritz read the message. He remembered the Scottish girl from the ship. 'Her name was Jenny. I must find her,' he thought.

In Jenny's cave home, they talked about their last night on the ship ... 'I got into a boat, but it sank near the cliffs,' Jenny said. 'So I swam into the cave, and found this bay."

We couldn't see it from our hills,' Fritz told Jenny. 'And I couldn't climb the cliffs,' Jenny answered. 'So I wrote messages.'

'But why did you run away from me?' Fritz asked her. Pirates came here last year,' Jenny said. 'I ran away from them. When I saw you, I thought, "More pirates are here!"."

Jenny had some books with her. 'They're from the ship,' she said.

The next day, Ernst ran to the cave house. 'Fritz is coming. And there's somebody with him!' he told Mother and Father.

Pritz's brothers were excited when they met Jenny. They asked her lots of questions, and took her around the farm. Father made a room for Jenny in the cave. She was happy. 'I've got a family again,' she thought.

3 When the winter came, the boys read books for the first time in years. 'Fritz's English is very good now,' Father said one day, 'Jenny's books are helping him. Mother laughed. 'It's not the books,'

Mostly a answers: Mostly b answers: Mystery and fantasy are Adventure and drama your favourite genres. are your genres. You enjoy reading thrillers You like reading horror stories and watching and you love watching science fiction films. action films.

Mostly canswers: Comedy and romance are your genres, and you love watching a good musical.

THINK! Have you heard of the Guinness World Records? Do you know any film records?

The record books are full of great film trivia, but we usually only hear about awards and gossip about the stars. I like the gossip, but what about the film trivia we aren't told about? Some film records are much more interesting. For example, did you know that Robert Downey Jr. was paid more than any other actor for his role as Iron Man in the Avengers films (the huge sum of eighty million US dollars)? And I bet you can't guess which film has the record for the most tickets sold. I was amazed! Well, apparently more cinema tickets were sold for Gone with the Wind, a 1930s romance, than for any other film. I haven't even seen it but it sounds terrible! The classic science fiction film Star Wars comes a close second, and I'm sure that it's a much better movie.

One truly unbelievable film record was set by a man called Ashish Sharma in Mathura, India, in 2008. He sat in a cinema and watched films for an incredible 120 hours and twenty-three minutes – that's forty-eight films in total. As for the longest film ever made, a Swedish director is working on one at the moment that will be 720 hours – or thirty days – long. I don't know what genre it is – maybe all genres! Not even Mr Sharma will be able to watch all of that in one go!

Another film-related record from India is about the world's largest film poster. It was made to advertise India's biggest action film of 2015, Bāhubali. The size of it is extraordinary! At nearly 5,000 square metres, it's more than half the size of a professional football pitch! It wasn't made in the usual way. It was designed by the film's director S. S. Rajamouli and it was made by a team of thirty people who worked around the clock for three days.

It seems that I could spend a lifetime researching film records – there's so much to find out! Next, I'm going to take a look at special effects. It's really clever how some effects are made.

I wonder what the best ever special effects were ...?

- 1 the amount of money earned by Robert Downey Junior
- 2 Gone with the Wind
- 3 Ashish Sharma's record
- 4 the size of the film poster
- 5 special effects

STORY IN ENGLISH • The Swiss Family Robinson

1 BEFORE READING Work in pairs. If the story of The Swiss Family Robinson was a film, which genre would it be? Who would star in the film?

Read the text out loud to improve your pronunciation.

Chapter 8 • To England

'This is an important day,' Father said one morning. 'We arrived on this island seven years ago - so no work today.' At once Jenny and the boys ran up the hill excitedly.

The next morning, Father and Fritz took the boat out. When they left the bay, they suddenly saw a ship in front of them. 'Pirates!' said Fritz. They quickly moved their boat behind some rocks.

5 That afternoon, the captain visited the island. Jenny took him in her arms happily.

4 When they arrived, the captain met them. I'm James Montrose,' he told them, 'Captain Montrose!' Father cried, 'Your daughter Jenny's with us.' 'That's wonderfull' the captain said. 'I waited in Australia for her, but her ship never came. I looked for her for years, but found nothing. Then four months ago, we caught some pirates. They told us about a girl on this island."

6 A week later, Fritz told Mother and Father, 'Jenny's leaving for England tomorrow. And I want to marry her, and go with her.' 'Then let's tell Captain Montrose,' Father said. And they did.

The next day, the captain married Jenny and Fritz. When they said goodbye to the family, Father gave a box to them. 'Open it later,' he said.

B Jenny and Fritz stood on the ship, and looked back at their island home. Soon they could see it no more. Then they opened the box. In it, they found Father's journal: the story of 'The Swiss Family Robinson'.

6 New technology can change the clothes we wear.

4 USE IT! Write sentences about the type of fabric you can use for different types of clothes. Give reasons for your answers.

What are your clothes made of?

The clothes you're wearing today are very different from the clothes your grandparents were wearing when they were your age. When your grandparents were young, many of the fabrics used in modern clothes didn't even exist.

Clothes are made mainly of two kinds of fibres: natural and synthetic. Natural fibres come either from plants or animals. In the first half of the 20th century, most clothes were made of natural fibres like wool, cotton and silk.

Wool is used for warm clothes, such as suits and hats. Its disadvantages are that you have to be careful when you wash it and that it can sometimes feel uncomfortable next to the skin. In the past, people used to wear clothes made of wool for sports like golf, skiing and even swimming!

Cotton's main advantages are that it is strong, comfortable and not expensive. However, it can lose its colour and it dries very slowly. Silk is a delicate fabric, but it is also strong. It is smooth and soft, and also very comfortable to wear. However, it is expensive and difficult to clean.

Synthetic fabrics like nylon and polyester didn't become popular until the 1960s. These fabrics are strong, cheap and water-resistant. The disadvantage is that they can be uncomfortable to wear for a long time.

Fashion and technology change all the time. Today, many people are wearing bamboo socks and sweaters. Others are buying clothes made of smart fabrics that can change colour. What materials do you think your grandchildren will wear?

CURRICULUM EXTRA • Art: Colours

I can name colours and say how they relate to each other.

Check the meaning of the words in the box. Do you know any other adjectives to describe colours?

> complementary harmonious pastel primary secondary vibrant

2 Read the text. Write the names of colours 1-6 on the colour wheel. Which colours are primary and which are secondary?

1 yellow - primary

3 3.19 Read and listen to the text again. Complete the sentences using the words in exercise 1.

1	Yellow and purple arecolours.
2	Blue and red are colours.
3	Acolour is bright and strong.
4	Green and yellow arecolours.

5 Orange and purple are ___colours. 6 A _____ colour is pale and soft.

4 USE IT! Work in groups. Look at Wassily Kandinsky's painting Squares with Concentric Circles. Choose two squares in the painting and say how the colours in each square are related. Which square do you like best and why?

... and ... are harmonious / complementary colours.

I like ... because it looks It reminds me of

The COLOUR Wheel

Have you ever thought about how colours are related? Why do some colour combinations look good and others don't?

In the 176 century, the English scientist Isaac Newton was studying light when he made an important discovery. He found out that white light is made up of all the colours of the rainbow. Newton then arranged the rainbow colours in a circle, creating the first colour wheel.

Red, blue and yellow are the three primary colours that sit on the colour wheel. The secondary colours green, orange and purple sit between these colours. Each secondary colour is created by mixing two primary colours.

The colour wheel divides colours into warm and coal categories. Warm colours, like orange and yellow, are on the red side of the wheel, while cool colours, like green and purple, are on the blue side. Colours can also be harmonious or complementary. Complementary colours are any two colours which are directly apposite each other, like red and green. Harmoniaus colours sit next to each other on the wheel.

Famous artists and decorators have used the colour wheel to help them choose the right colours ever since it was invented. Pablo Picasso, however, didn't believe in It: "Why do two colours, put one next to the other, sing? Can one really explain this? No. 'But everyone agrees that colours can affect our feelings. A vibrant red, for example, is often associated with anger or danger, while yellow is a happy colour. Blue can make people feel calm; pastel pink, which is a gentle pink, sometimes makes them think of romance, and green is the colour of nature.

Do you have a favourite colour? What do you associate it with? What does it remind you of?

CURRICULUM EXTRA • Geology: The water cycle

I can understand the water cycle and describe the journey of a river,

Mist catchers

- 1 Match the words in blue in the fact sheet with definitions 1-7.
 - 1 changes from liquid into gas
 - 2 changes from gas into liquid

 - 4 water when it exists in the air
 - 5 the part of the land or body of water at the top
 - 6 ice is in this state
 - 7 water at room temperature is this.
- 2 Read the fact sheet. What happens to water when it falls to the Earth?

3 Label the diagram with the words in the box.

condensation evaporation precipitation water returns to the sea

Now here is a challenge for you. Go and get a glass of water and take a look at it. Can you guess how old it is? Well, your water perhaps fell from a cloud just a couple of weeks ago, but it has been around for the same length of time as planet Earth! That means that your glass of water was around when the first creatures swam in the sea and when the dinosaurs roamed the Earth. But how is this possible?

The fact is that the quantity of water on the Earth remains the same over time and it constantly goes through the water cycle. In the cycle, there is continuous movement of water on, above and below the surface of the Earth. Firstly, the sun heats the water in the rivers, seas and oceans, and it evaporates into the air. Plants and trees lose water, too, and this also goes up into the air. The water vapour then cools and condenses into small drops which form clouds. You can see how condensation happens if you look again at your glass of water on a hot day. After a short time, water from the air condenses onto the cold glass. Back to the sky, though, and the next step is that the clouds gradually get heavier and heavier until they can't hold the water any more, and it falls to Earth as rain, sleet or snow.

Water can change state from liquid to vapour to solid during the cycle, but any form of water that falls from the clouds is called precipitation. When on Earth, some of the water runs into rivers, lakes and streams and becomes surface water. Some enters the ground and forms underground rivers or lakes before eventually flowing back to the seas and oceans. The cycle is complete.

- 4 3.20 Read and listen to the fact sheet again. Answer the questions.
 - 1 What is true about the amount of water on Earth?
 - 2 Why does water vapour condense?
 - 3 What happens to a glass of water on a hot day?
 - 4 Name two forms of precipitation. Do you know any more?
 - 5 What are the three states that water can be in?
- 5 Suse IT! Work in pairs. Create a poster to show what happens in the water cycle. Include information from this page.

CURRICULUM EXTRA • Society: Fairtrade

I can talk about Fairtrade and design a poster about it.

1 Read paragraphs 1 and 2 of the text quickly to find the words below. What part of speech are they? Explain their meaning in your own words, > community conditions label movement plantation price profit

2 Read the article. What is Fairtrade?

MAKE BANANAS FAIR

Bananas are the most popular fruit in the world. British people eat thirteen million every day, or five billion a year. Bananas don't grow in the UK. They grow in tropical regions and have to be transported. So how is it possible that a banana only costs eleven pence in supermarkets?

- 1 The reason is that the farmers who produce bananas often get very little money because the companies who buy them want to make big profits. Some farmers earn so little that they can't buy food for their families. Life isn't easy on a banana plantation. The farmers often work long hours. They can get hurt by dangerous pesticides. Sometimes they don't even have clean water.
- 2 Fairtrade is an international movement which tries to help farmers and workers in developing countries. Fairtrade products, which include items like bananas, coffee, sugar, cocoa, rice and cotton, have a special label. When you buy a product with the Fairtrade label, you know that the farmer who produced it received a fair price and worked in good conditions. The farmers also receive some extra money, called a Fairtrade premium, to use in their community.
- S Foncho is a Fairtrade banana farmer in Colombia who belongs to a farmers' co-operative. 'We experienced very difficult times when we weren't in Fairtrade,' he says. Today, as a Fairtrade farmer, he gets a minimum price for his bananas and his co-operative also gets the Fairtrade premium. This means that he can build a house and put food on the table for his family. It also means that his children get an education.
- 4 Next time you are shopping in the supermarket, look for the Fairtrade label. If enough people choose to buy Fairtrade goods, more companies will pay the farmers a fair price.

- 3 3.21 Read and listen to the article again. Write true or false. Correct the false sentences.
 - 1 People in the UK don't grow bananas.
 - 2 The UK's climate is too warm for bananas to grow there.
 - 3 Some banana farmers don't earn enough because companies don't pay a fair price.
 - 4 Fairtrade only helps banana farmers.
 - 5 Foncho buys bananas from farmers and sells them to supermarkets.
 - 6 Foncho's co-operative gets extra money to use in their community.
- 4 USE IT! Work in groups. Make a poster about Fairtrade. Include pictures.

Write about workers' conditions like this:

Workers often work earn can't don't

Write about consumers' actions:

Consumers don't buy more should pay enough

Include a slogan, for example:

Buy ... / Give ... / Pay ... / Help ...

CURRICULUM EXTRA • Science: Genetic engineering

I can understand genetic engineering and give my opinion about it.

Genetic engineering

1 Check the meaning of the words in the box. Use the words to complete the text below.

alter crops diseases gene genetic engineering herbicides nutrients weeds

- 2 ① 3.22 Read and listen to the text. Match headings A–E with paragraphs 1–5.
 - A What genetic engineering can do
 - B Doubts about genetic engineering
 - C An example of genetic engineering
 - D Defining genes
 - E Genetic engineering and weeds

Did you know that scientists have put a fish 1....... into a tomato? They did it to develop tomatoes which can grow in cold temperatures.

So what are genes? Genes are instructions which exist inside every cell of every living thing. Each cell in the human body contains about 25,000 to 35,000 genes which determine your eye colour, how tall you are, what skills you have, and so on. So if you 2 a plant gene, you can change a specific characteristic like colour, shape or height.

changes the genes of plants or animals to make genetically modified organisms (GMOs). Scientists believe that GMOs can help us in many ways. For example, GM 4 can produce more food which contains more 5 . They can also have an engineered resistance to insects and 6 . , and stay fresh for longer. GMOs can make fish grow larger and make cows produce healthier milk. Some people think that if we want to feed the world's population, we will need GMOs.

3 Answer the questions.

- 1 Why did scientists genetically modify a tomato?
- 2 What do genes do?
- 3 What are two ways in which GMOs can help us?
- 4 What effect can herbicides have on crops?
- 5 What sort of plants can resist herbicides?
- 6 Why do some people oppose the use of GMOs?
- 4 Suse IT! Work in pairs. Ask and answer the questions.
 - 1 Do you think GM food is a good idea?
 - 2 Are you happy to eat GM vegetables or fruit? Why / Why not?
 - 3 Are you happy to eat meat from a GM animal? Why / Why not?
 - 4 How much more will you pay for organic food?
 - 5 Will we be able to feed the world if we use GM food?
 - 6 Will we put our health in danger if we use GM food?

But does genetic engineering work? Farmers use to kill weeds, but these chemicals can also damage crops. In the USA, farmers use GM crops which resist herbicides, so that they can destroy without damaging the crop. However, some 'superweeds' are becoming immune to the herbicides, so the farmers have to use more and more chemicals.

Food is very important to all of us and many people believe we are what we eat. These people are worried about the overuse of chemicals and the possible effects of eating GMOs. Some governments oppose them. What do you think?

- 1 school
- 2 nature
- 3 places
- 4 food
- 5 everyday life
- 4 Substitution USE IT! Change pairs. Tell your partner about your five objects in exercise 3. Work together to make one list of the five best objects.

Time travellers

Can you imagine what your school was like 100 years ago? Do you think students 100 years in the future will be able to imagine your life now? They might not, unless you help them. That's why they buried the Shiksha Time Capsule in India. It was the country's first 100-year time capsule. Shiksha means 'education' in Hindi, which is one of the official languages of India, as well as English.

So what's inside the Shiksha Time Capsule? There are ten things to represent education in India today, including a school bag, a uniform, a box of marbles, slate and chalk, and a book with messages from children about what they think school will be like in 100 years.

Time capsule craze

The Shiksha Time Capsule inspired other people to do the same. At the Institute of Technology Kanpur in India, students 100 years from now will find photographs, a movie about the school, the logo from the school jacket, a history book, a map, a copy of a coursebook, a flag and information about everyday life, like a list of birds that fly around the school and a menu from the canteen. All the documents in the time capsule are on a 16GB USB stick. If people in the future can't put the USB stick in their computers, they'll be able to plug it into a notebook which is also in the time capsule.

The students buried their time capsule and put a ten-ton rock on top to show where it is. Now they just have to wait!

India has 122 main

English. This means it's the second largest country in the world

after the USA.

CULTURE • Work experience

I can talk about the benefits of work experience.

Tall Ships

- 1 Look at the photos and answer the questions. Then read the article and check your answers.
 - 1 What job categories can you see?
 - 2 Why do you think some teenagers work in their holidays?

The world of work experience

Forget relaxing with friends. The end of the school year is a time for working for most fourteen- and fifteen-year-olds in the UK. Around half a million teenagers in the UK do work experience every summer. This is a useful way to find out which jobs you might enjoy in the future. It is also important if you are applying for university, or to help you get a job in the future. For example, if you want to study to be an engineer, you could do work experience with a car manufacturer. Other popular work experience placements are in teaching, marketing, media, and finance. Placements usually last two weeks.

Some teenagers have no idea what job they want to do. In this case, they need to think about their passions. For example, if you are interested in music, you could work in a music shop. Alternatively, if you love animals, you could work on a farm.

- 2 3.31 Read and listen to the article again and answer the questions.
 - What time of year do most teenagers do work experience in the UK?
 - 2 Why does the writer think work experience is useful?
 - 3 How long are placements?
 - 4 What does Paul want to do when he finishes school?
- 3 OYOUR CULTURE Work in pairs and answer the questions.

Why not? Do you think it's a good idea to do work experience? Why / Why not?

Which types of jobs are most popular? How old are people when they do work experience?

- 4 USE IT! Imagine your country has a new rule: All fourteen-year-olds must do work experience in the school holidays. Prepare a class debate. Follow instructions 1–3.
 - 1 Group A: you agree with the rule. Group B: you disagree with the rule. In pairs, write a list of reasons to support your opinion.
 - 2 Take turns to present your reasons.
 - 3 Decide which group presented the best argument.

My work experience:

Hi, I'm Paul, and I've just done two weeks' work experience on a farm near where I live. It was brilliant. I enjoyed giving the animals their food in the morning. I also made sure the animals had exercise and I kept everything clean. At night, I helped to put the animals inside. It was hard work but I loved it. I hope the farm will give me a job when I finish school.

HIDEAWAY YOUTH PROJECT

Helping young people to make a difference

Aims

Hideaway tries to support young people aged eleven to twenty-five in Moss Side, Manchester. The organization aims to give young people a way of expressing their opinions and making positive contributions to society.

History

In the 1960s, the city of Manchester had problems with crime, violence and unemployment. The founders of the Hideaway Youth Project wanted to provide a safe place and support for young people in the Moss Side area in particular. A 'hideaway' is a place where you can go to hide or to be away from other people.

Since opening in 1965, the project has helped thousands of teenagers of different cultures, religions and races. They can share their stories and get advice, as well as take part in activities that develop skills. Many of these teenagers then go on to become project volunteers themselves. 'It's a second home for a lot of people,' says project leader Julie Wharton. If it didn't exist, many of these people wouldn't have anywhere to go.

Activities

Programmes include:

Powerhouse – fun sports activities such as football and basketball, or specialist sessions on cooking and art.

Healthy Living – young people learn about how important it is to eat well and do regular exercise.

Young Men's Project and Young Women's Project – these two separate projects support and encourage young men and women to talk about sensitive topics. This helps to create a safe talking environment where people learn how to be open and honest. The sessions promote acceptance and tolerance, and help participants to build self-confidence.

In 2014, the Hideaway Youth Project won the Youth Work Award for their success in helping young people be the best that they can be.

Genre: Comedy and musical

Plot summary

Dewey Finn is a 'slacker' - someone who doesn't do much with his life: he hasn't got a job and doesn't earn any money. He loves music and plays the guitar in a band, but even his bandmates are tired of him, and they throw him out of the band. So he pretends to be a substitute teacher (a teacher who teaches at a school temporarily when the usual teacher isn't available) at a very traditional local school. When he's there, he realizes that his students have a lot of musical talent, so he creates a rock band for them and enters them into a local talent competition, the Battle of the Bands, against the wishes of the school principal. If they win the competition, he'll be able to pay his rent!

Jack Black as Dewey Finn; Joan Cusack as the principal of the school; and a class of thirteen-yearolds as the school band members. Jack Black is a famous American comedy actor. He's very funny in films like Kung Fu Panda and Gulliver's Travels. He's also in a real-life band, so he's perfect to star as Dewey in School of Rock

The film is directed by Richard Linklater. He always has good music in his films and he lates working with young actors. His films are always interesting

Looking at her
Looking at me

And she says:
Hey, there!
Are you for real?
What you 2 have / wear

It's not cool
To wear that in school
And you don't look good
In a hood

So I'm on a new app
It's the latest 3 craze / fad
Buying clothes online
Is the only way
But I'm asking myself, what can I do?

SONG • If I Ruled the World

SOUS

If I Ruled the World

If I ruled the world I would do what's right I would ban all weapons I would stop all 'flights

If I was number one
I'd get rid of hunger
Make a law that's fair
Make the rich people 2 poor

If you help me I could make it Could you be ³ fine? Donate your time?

If I was honest with you I would need you to

Be ⁴careful and fair
If we're to get anywhere
Be thoughtful and clever
Coz we can't stop, ever!
Be patient and brave
Coz we've got to ⁵ help the world
Be generous and heroic
We'd have to go for it

Let's go for it! (Yeah) Let's go for it! (Yeah, yeah, yeah)

If I ruled the world I might introduce a way To allow everybody To have their ⁶ pay

If I was in charge I'd encourage everyone To give what they can And create the world they want

If we could change the world
We'd have to go for it
Let's go for it! (Yeah)
